PRESIDENT'S Message

DEAR MEMBERS:

This fall is promising to be an active one at the FCBA, offering a combination of luncheons, receptions, CLEs, and brown bag educational sessions. The first luncheon of the year on October 2nd will feature a panel of private equity investors active in the communications arena, who will fill us in on how they look at the telecom and media industries and the role private equity firms play in the market. On October 10th, the International Telecommunications Committee is organizing a panel introducing telecom attaches from foreign embassies, followed by a reception at the spectacular new House of Sweden on the Georgetown waterfront. The annual reception to meet and greet FCC and NTIA Bureau and Office Chiefs will take place on October 25th.

There will also be full slate of educational sessions offered by FCBA committees and chapters throughout the fall – and it's about to get even easier to sign up for these events. FCBA members will soon be able to enjoy the convenience of registering for events online, thanks to software upgrades currently being implemented and tested by the FCBA office. We'll soon be e mailing around information on how to use this new functionality.

This year's ad hoc Speakers Committee, comprised of Ruth Milkman, Henry Rivera and Bryan Tramont, planned the October luncheon, and are working on future breakfast and luncheon events for this year. I know they would welcome your ideas for speakers or topics. I have also asked Anna Gomez, Mark Schneider and Ryan Wallach to serve as an ad hoc Sponsorship Committee, and they will be coordinating sponsor outreach efforts for FCBA events.

As a former FCC staffer, a focus for me this year will be on continuing the FCBA's efforts to ensure that our activities are as relevant and accessible as possible to our Government members. To that end, the FCBA provides substantial discounts for membership dues and prices for attending CLEs, receptions and other events, as well as scholarships to the Annual Seminar. This year the Executive Committee has already implemented an additional CLE discount for Government lawyers that have graduated recently, and we are considering ways to expand the successful scholarship program for the Annual Seminar, which will be in nearby Cambridge Maryland next May. I would like to do some brainstorming in the near future about ideas for improving the FCBA's services for Government members, and I encourage those of you in Government to contact me with any ideas you have along these lines.

I look forward to seeing you all at this fall's events.

October 2nd, 6:00 – 8:15 p.m. Buying and Selling Political Time in a Hot Election Season

Presented by the Mass Media Committee

Those who sell TV and radio time to political candidates know only half of the equation behind campaigns' advertising decisions. On Tuesday, October 2, 2007 from 6:00 – 8:15 p.m., a Mass Media Committee CLE seminar will offer insights on the other half—thanks to the participation of two prominent media buyers, Kyle Osterhout, of Media Strategies & Research, and Kyle Roberts, of Smart Media Group. Osterhout represents Democratic candidates at both the state and federal level, including the Hillary Clinton presidential campaign in the 2008 cycle. Roberts has represented Republican candidates at the gubernatorial and federal level in 48 states, including Senator John Thune's successful 2004 campaign against incumbent Tom Daschle. Both Osterhout and Roberts also have directed ad-buying efforts for a wide range of issue advocacy groups and associations.

Joining them on the CLE panel will be the FCC's specialists on the political programming rules, Bobby Baker and Hope Cooper. The four will engage in a lively discussion about political ad-buying practices and the FCC rules that affect them, with an emphasis on the equal opportunities rules, reasonable access mandates, and "lowest unit charge" rate requirements. The panelists also will discuss the media buyers' perspectives on how they interact with the FCC staff, the common problems the buyers encounter in purchasing time, and the steps that stations can take to avoid disputes.

Moderators David O'Connor, of Holland & Knight, and Jack Goodman, of WilmerHale, will open the floor to a broader range of political programming issues. Those include topics specific to this election cycle—such as the still-evolving dates for the early primaries and caucuses, which are pushing the 45-day windows for "lowest unit charge" political ad rates well into holiday ad season in many states. The seminar schedule also reserves a substantial amount of time for questions from attendees.

The CLE will take place at Dow Lohnes PLLC, 1200 New Hampshire Avenue, NW, Suite 800. To register, please use the form on page 16.

In MEMORIAM

Louis Clark Stephens (1913-2007)

Louis Stephens, attorney at the FCC for 35 years in various senior staff positions, later a private communications lawyer and an FCBA member in the early 1990's, died on May 30 at the age of 93 of esophageal cancer.

Fluent in five languages, Louis served as Senior Legal Advisor and International Law Advisor to the Broadcast Bureau, now the Media Bureau. He was several times detailed to the State Department to serve as principal attorney for the United States on delegations to international conferences to negotiate spectrum usage treaties. He represented the United States at conferences in Geneva, Switzerland; Fortaleza and Rio de Janeiro, Brazil; Lima, Peru; and Mexico City.

While at the Commission from 1954 to 1989, he also served as Chief of Legal Services in the Rules and Standards Division of the Broadcast Bureau. He made major contributions to the development of educational television, was also Director of a special FCC study of broadcast conglomerates, and was a Legal Advisor to Commissioner Benjamin Hooks.

Following his service at the FCC, Louis worked for several years at the firm of Pepper & Corazzini. He participated while there with Vince Pepper on cases before the Commission, the Court of Appeals for the D.C. Circuit, and the United States Supreme Court.

A native of New York City, Louis received a B.A. degree from Roanoke College and a J.D. from George Washington University Law School, where he was a Law Review Editor. He also did post-graduate work in international law at the University of London.

He served in World War II, enlisting as an Army Private and later being commissioned as a Lieutenant, then promoted to Captain. He provided air transport for troops in Europe.

After completion of his military service and prior to his years at the FCC, Louis was Legal Advisor at the European Headquarters in London of the United Nations Relief and Rehabilitation Administration, and was General Counsel at the UNRRA's Displaced Persons Headquarters in Paris. He was also Deputy General Counsel and General Counsel to the International Refugee Organization in Geneva. He successfully fought for the right of homeless children to choose where they would settle rather than letting the government make that choice for them. ### Rocky Mountain Chapter

September 5, 2007 "Taking Stock of the Antitrust Modernization Commission Report"

University of Colorado School of Law in cooperation with the FCBA Rocky Mountain Chapter

Wednesday, September 5, 2007, from 3:00 to 8:00 p.m. at the University of Colorado School of Law in Denver, CO. This past spring, the Antitrust Modernization Commission issued a 449 page report addressing the state of antitrust law and practice. In general, the report highlighted that the antitrust laws remain effectively positioned to address anticompetitive conduct. Notably, the report rejected calls for new strategies or institutions to address high technology markets. It did, however, highlight a number of recommendations related to the intersection of antitrust and intellectual property law, including ones related to patent law reform and conduct related to standard setting bodies.

In line with its generally approving tone of current antitrust enforcement, the report did not call for any significant reforms of merger review, turning away an array of criticism of current practice. First, some commentators have suggested that the agencies abuse their leverage under the Hart Scott Rodino Act to obtain regulatory oversight or demand relief that they would not otherwise be able to achieve in court. Second, others have complained that the antitrust authorities have allowed mergers to proceed without imposing effective remedies and that the merger remedies process is often a black box. Third, some have suggested that the impact of innovation and potential entry are overly discounted by the current Merger Guidelines and that the authorities should have a greater tolerance of mergers than traditional antitrust metrics would call into question.

This conference will evaluate the judgments of the Antitrust Modernization Commission report, examining its basic conclusion that there are no fundamental flaws in modern antitrust law and practice as well as its various suggested for reform. To do so, we will bring together some of the Commissioners who evaluated the state of antitrust law, current and former antitrust enforcers, and a number of leading antitrust practitioners. In particular, we will examine the report's conclusions within three broad headings—Rethinking Merger Review; Antitrust in the New Economy; and the Antitrust/IP Interface.

October 10, 2007 "The Future of User Generated Content"

Co-sponsored with the Cable Center and The Communications Technology Professionals

Wednesday, October 10, 2007, from 3:00 to 7:30 p.m. at the Cable Center in Denver, CO.

According to Time magazine, the person of 2006 was "you," reflecting its judgment that the millions of bloggers, music remixers, amateur video creators of YouTube fame, wikipedians, and Flickr photographers were mainstream fare. Many in the mainstream media are increasingly asking themselves how they can take advantage of this phenomenon. They also realize that this phenomenon is no passing fad, with only 3% of executives in a recent survey labeling “social media” as a temporary phenomenon. More interestingly, two-thirds of those executives were “positive” that their firms would make money off of such media, but only a quarter of them had any idea of how they would do so.

This conference will analyze the growing trends related to user generated content. In so doing, it will begin with the question of what new technologies are emerging and how they will transform traditional media and usage patterns. Secondly, it will ask what business models will emerge—both for new upstarts and established media companies—to turn this phenomenon into profitable ventures. Will, for example, established firms incorporate user-generated content into their offerings, offer the rights to their traditional content for others to remix, or both. Finally, it will examine the legal issues that arise in connection with this phenomenon, ranging from intellectual property issues to questions of consumer privacy to calls for regulation to protect children and guard against defamation in this emerging medium.

McKenna’s Wagon Seeking Volunteers for September 23rd

McKenna’s Wagon is a mobile soup and sandwich wagon that goes “on location” to deliver food to the needy. For those who have volunteered, it has been a wonderful experience and a great way to help the needy in the D.C. community. This is an especially good experience for the teens and pre-teens among us who do not have a full appreciation of the many privileges they enjoy. Community service credits are also available.

The Wagon is a white van that is loaded up with sandwiches, snacks and soup. We meet at Martha’s Table at 4:45 p.m. in comfortable clothes and shoes. Martha’s Table is located in a yellow building at 2114 Fourteenth Street, NW, in the District, near the intersection of 14th and U Streets. On-street parking is available.

Upon arrival we get assignments (some of us will distribute snacks and sandwiches, others will serve soup), and put on aprons before we depart in the van to 5th and New York Ave., NW (near the new Convention Center). We are driven by one of our experienced volunteers and the trip to distribution location takes about 10-15 minutes.

We serve about 30-75 people per visit including a few mothers who come for food for their families. The area is well patrolled by police. The food distribution is conducted in an efficient, calm and orderly fashion and many of the people we serve are quite appreciative of our efforts. Once we serve all of the food, we do a clean up of the immediate area. Total time for the distribution takes about one hour and we usually return to Martha’s Table by or before 6:30 p.m.

We would love to have you join us on one of our upcoming food runs which are always on the 4th Sunday of the month. If you are able to volunteer on September 23rd or for a future date, please contact Marlo Go at MGo@ctia.org or Tom VanWazer at tvanwazer@sidley.com.

Volunteer Outreach for Martha’s Table – September 30th

Many of us are stretched for time these days, but why not consider spending a few hours on a Sunday to help the FCBA Foundation’s partner charities? For several years now, the FCBA has been providing volunteers to Martha’s Table and McKenna’s Wagon. These organizations rely on the good work of our members each month, so grab a friend, colleague or family member and join your fellow FCBA volunteers!

Martha’s Table feeds hundreds of hungry, homeless adults and children on the streets of Washington daily, through its mobile soup kitchen. Children and friends are also welcome. We will begin at 10:00 am and work until 1:00 pm. Martha’s Table is located in a yellow building at 2114 Fourteenth Street, NW, in the District, near the intersection of 14th and U Streets. On-street parking is available. Volunteers are asked to bring food if possible, (e.g., cold cuts, bread, peanut butter, jelly, vegetables and potatoes) because the center often runs out of donated food.

The FCBA volunteers on the last Sunday of every month, so mark your calendars now. For more information, contact Howard Weiss at 703-812-0471 — weiss@fhhlaw.com.
