27th Annual FCBA Charity Auction to be held on November 10

The FCBA Young Lawyers Committee and the FCBA Foundation will hold their 27th Annual Charity Auction on Thursday, November 10, 2016, at the Sphinx Club at the Almas Temple, 1315 K Street, NW, Washington, DC, from approximately 6:00 – 10:00 p.m. Admission is free and the event is open to the public.

Proceeds from this year’s Charity Auction will benefit two great, local charities—Miriam’s Kitchen and the FCBA Foundation. Founded in 1983 as a soup kitchen, Miriam’s Kitchen has evolved over the years to provide more than meals. Today, Miriam’s Kitchen is a critical player in the fight to end chronic homelessness in DC. On the direct services level, Miriam’s Kitchen serves nearly 5,000 guests annually, helping them to improve their health, increase their income and obtain housing through a range of programs and partnerships. And at the systems level, Miriam’s Kitchen works with leaders across the city to make instances of homelessness rare, brief and non-recurring. The FCBA Foundation will use proceeds from the Charity Auction to support its annual scholarship program.

The Charity Auction is one of Washington, DC’s premier “must-attend” events for the communications industry. The event features a live auction hosted by a professional auctioneer, silent auctions, online auction, and raffle drawings. Attendees should expect surprises and new and exciting prizes building on last year’s event (over $99,000 raised), including vacation packages; consumer electronics; tickets to Verizon Center events, concerts, theater shows, and various professional and collegiate sporting events; dinners; lunches; spa packages; and gift certificates from area businesses.

Over the past 26 years, the Charity Auction has raised more than $1.5 million for DC-based organizations, including the DC Children’s Advocacy Center, STEP/I Have a Dream, the Charitable Coalition for Children with Cancer, Kids Enjoy Exercise Now, Fair Chance, Kid Power-DC, Horton’s Kids, Bright Beginnings, Project Wait No Longer, Sitar Arts Center, THC – Housing Families, Transforming Lives, Horizons Greater Washington, BUILD Metro DC, and The Fishing School.

If you have any questions about the Charity Auction, please contact Kristine Fargotstein (703-822-3862, kfargotstein@gmail.com) or Starsha Valentine (202-293-4000, starsha@fcba.org).

If you are interested in donating a prize, use the Auction Donation Form on page 15 of this newsletter. Contributions are tax deductible, to the extent permitted by law. If you are interested in volunteering for the Auction, please send an email to FCBAuction@gmail.com.

27th Annual Charity Auction – Prize Donations Needed!

The Auction Committee is looking for “priceless” prizes for the 27th Annual FCBA Charity Auction, including (but not limited to) tickets to exclusive industry events, behind-the-scenes tours, historic memorabilia related to key communications laws or events, and other unique prizes that can’t be obtained anywhere else! Please consider whether you have any ideas or connections that would be helpful in procuring such items. “Priceless” prizes are always some of the most popular packages at the event.

The Auction Committee truly appreciates the tremendous support and enthusiasm shown by members of the bar with respect to the Charity Auction. Your generosity in the form of donations, volunteering, and participation in auction bidding is what makes this event so successful year after year. If you would like to make a donation, please use the Auction Donation Form on page 15 of this newsletter. Contributions are tax deductible, to the extent permitted by law.

The 27th Annual Charity Auction is on Thursday, November 10, 2016, at the Sphinx Club at the Almas Temple, 1315 K Street, NW, Washington, DC, from 6:00 – 10:00 p.m. If you have any questions about the Charity Auction, please contact Kristine Fargotstein (703-822-3862, kfargotstein@gmail.com) or Starsha Valentine (202-293-4000, starsha@fcba.org).

In order to do this, each individual member will need to print out his/her own order and submit it for payment through their internal channels. If we receive one check for multiple renewals, a copy of each individual invoice must be included. If you are paying for multiple renewals by credit card, you must pay each invoice individually online.

To view your information in the FCBA online directory, click on the Individual Directory link in the menu options after you have logged in. Search for your entry information. Note that this directory only displays your name, address, email, and primary phone and fax number. Get to Know an FCBA MEMBER

Markham Erickson, Partner, Steptoe & Johnson

By: Laura Phillips

On a very warm July day I had a chance to have lunch with FCBA member and Steptoe and Johnson partner Markham Erickson. Markham arrived at Steptoe and Johnson three and a half years ago, after having founded a firm with another lawyer earlier in his career. Markham has a varied practice that includes tribal affairs, copyright, telecommunications, and technology. And because he bought me lunch I promised I would go easy on him!

Q: What attracted you to the field of communications?

A: I probably came into the field through a bit of an atypical route. I was an English major in college, and I am not a technologist. But after having become a lawyer and starting out doing copyright work (which is the area of law that had attracted me to law in the first place) I started doing some copyright work for Netscape and AOL. That seemed to snowball over time to include copyright and related issues for Yahoo and Google, among others. Eventually these same companies started to have questions or concerns related to communications laws and policies and many terrific lawyers who would otherwise have been available to assist them had conflicts. As a result, my practice in communications law and policy started in earnest around the time of the Brand X case. Much work is in areas relating to new media and programming, including on some issues of first impression for Skype and Netflix.

Q: Have things unfolded in your career more or less the way you planned?

A: Well, things have evolved more than there being any sort of master plan. And that is one reason I really enjoy being a lawyer in this space; learning new things is a joy. I did not have a set plan but I have been rather fortunate in starting a firm with another lawyer, Niels Holch, which is still known as Holch and Erickson. It was there that I did work with technology companies, financial services, and Indian tribes. I started to get involved increasingly with programming disputes in major communications mergers and acquisitions, like Comcast – NBCU. It was plain at a certain point that I needed more resources to assist clients in these large matters, I found myself at Steptoe, where I have represented Bloomberg and others in these large M&A matters.

Q: What was the most interesting or challenging part of your work and why?

A: Because our sector is so dynamic, you can’t just expect to wake up one day having mastered everything. You have to make an effort to learn and to stay current. I seem to be working a good deal of time at the intersection where telecommunications, copyright, and technology meet and I am really interested in and excited to participate in how things in these areas develop. I was involved for example in the Aero case and I am excited to see how video is going to develop in ways that challenge established systems. Content appears to be migrating into a hybrid commercial/user mode that will challenge all sorts of regulatory structures and payment streams.

Q: What do you enjoy reading?

A: I have a very eclectic palate when it comes to reading. One recent favorite read was called the Parthenon Enigma. It propounded a theory that is not widely accepted, but rather fascinating, namely that the east frieze of the Parthenon depicts human sacrifice. I also have been reading essays penned by Gore Vidal, who was just a superb essayist. You can learn so much about good writing from a strong essay writer.

Q: What surprised or impressed you most about the people you’ve worked with and why?

A: I have to say at different times in my career different people have stood out in my mind for different reasons. Every once in a while for a bad reason or as an example of something you want to avoid emulating. For example, I think of Clark Clifford, an eminently well respected counsel to a number of US Presidents who rather late in his life was tripped up by a very public bank scandal which was unfortunate and that tarnished his otherwise sterling reputation overnight. Professional credibility can be lost in a moment and in the case of Clark Clifford, it killed him. The lesson there is to always be careful about how you conduct yourself.

In terms of personal mentorship, I have to call out my former partner, Niels Holch, who showed me that it is critical never to take client advocacy beyond a professional level so you cannot still be civil and even friendly. While we have clients we represent and they and we may disagree as to what the right outcome might be on something that does not preclude us from being amicable. I truly believe the best most effective lawyers are those that do not make each issue the equivalent of a cage match. There are many other thoughtful wonderful members of our bar; too many to mention here.

Q: Can you share a perspective on pitfalls to avoid or other career advice for those who are just getting started in the communications field?

A: We practice in a somewhat small space and as I noted before, your reputation is important. It pays long term to be honorable and credible and to... treat others with respect. The other thing is to be prepared. One of the beauties of being a lawyer operating in such a dynamic space in the economy is that it can present amazing opportunities. I did work for Yahoo, for example, when they were only a year old. But given the dynamism, your practice can change very significantly before you know it. My advice is do not get too comfortable. Four years ago, for example, I would have never thought I would be doing so much work related to mergers and acquisitions. I also would say that to be successful in this field, intellectual curiosity is imperative. Always find something interesting in even the most mundane thing. Read outside your immediate area. And be in it for the long game.

Finally I would suggest that you try to do a variety of things in communications, as I think it is an unparalleled area where you can develop a wide range of litigation and regulatory policy skills very early on in your career. I have to say at Steptoe with a summer associate program it has amazed me that not every summer associate really wants to be a telecommunications lawyer; it really stumps me since it is such a great fertile field for learning a range of skills.

Q: What’s something interesting about you that people are not generally aware of you that are willing to share?

A: As I mentioned, I am an avid reader. I happen to be part of what was a book group featured in the Wall Street Journal not so long ago. The person who started this group invited people to give an annual “top ten” list of their favorite books and this over time has morphed into top ten lists of restaurants, of getaways, and that sort of thing. There are some really interesting and well known contributors to these annual lists, so I have to say I sometimes feel more pressure than I would without the group to read broadly and have some unusual picks for the group.

Q: How long have you been an FCBA member and what is the value of FCBA membership?

A: I have been a member for about the last 10 years or so. For young lawyers the FCBA provides a critical networking function with brown bags, CLEs, receptions, and the Young Lawyers Committee. Many of the functions connect a range of lawyers and provide a way for one to give back, or to give an assist to the next generation of communications lawyers. It’s a really well functioning community in each of these aspects.

Interested in learning more about another FCBA member? If there is a member you’d like to know better, please contact Laura Phillips at laura.phillips@dbr.com.
Volunteer at Martha’s Table on August 28

On Sunday, August 28 from 10:00 a.m. – 1:00 p.m., the FCBA will be preparing and distributing food at FCBA Foundation partner charity Martha’s Table. The FCBA has been meeting monthly to volunteer at Martha’s Table for many years. Martha’s Table feeds hundreds of homeless adults and children on the streets of Washington daily, through its mobile soup kitchen. Martha’s Table is located in a yellow building at 2114 Fourteenth Street, NW, in the District, near the intersection of 14th and U Streets. On-street parking is available. Volunteers are asked to bring food if possible (e.g., cold cuts, bread, peanut butter, jelly, vegetables and potatoes), because the center often runs out of donated food. Any food donated by volunteers might not be used the same day you volunteer; any food donations will be used at the discretion of Martha’s Table staff.

Please mark your calendars, bring your friends and children (they must be at least nine years old), and participate in this great volunteer effort. If you have questions or need more information, please contact Russ Hanser at RHanser@wbklaw.com.

The FCBA volunteers on the last Sunday of every month, so mark your calendars now!

In order to volunteer, go to http://fcba.marthastable.volunteerhub.com/.

Martha’s Table asks us to provide the following information to volunteers:

“Our ability to serve the community is based on the hard work of our volunteers and many supporters.

■ If you schedule and DO NOT show up for your shift, we CAN NOT serve the community to the best of our ability.
■ 24 hour canceling or rescheduling notice is required. In the event that you are unable to come in for your volunteer shift please contact the Volunteer Program Assistant so that Martha’s Table can make other arrangements.
■ Because we depend so heavily on volunteers, we need to make sure we recruit RELIABLE volunteers. If you do not provide us with 24 hours’ notice, we will have to reconsider whether we can reschedule for a future volunteer date(s).”

We’d like to remind everyone that if they have any changes to their contact information that they notify the FCBA, megan@fcba.org. In order to keep a cohesive look to both our online and hard copy directories, we do not allow members to make any changes to their contact information themselves. Also note that we do not include prefixes or titles in any of our member listings. We appreciate your cooperation in this matter. Thank you.
