Communications Law 101 Returns in February with a Focus on Technology

The FCBA and the Georgetown University Law Center's Continuing Legal Education Program will once again be teaming up to host the 5th Annual Communications Law 101 Seminar in Washington, D.C. The 1½ day seminar will be held on February 3-4 at the Georgetown University Law Center, 600 New Jersey Avenue, NW (Capitol Hill). GULC will be applying for CLE credits for states requested by participants on their registration forms, and GULC expects to receive approximately 8.0 credit hours for the seminar.

This year's Comm Law 101 seminar has changed its focus from basic legal elements of communications law practice and will instead focus on the technology making communications possible. Each day of the seminar will be initiated by an introductory discussion of the day's technical topics by Dale Hatfield. Dale, former Chief of the Office of Engineering and Technology of the FCC, will provide a technical overview of communications technologies on the first day of the seminar and discuss the ongoing convergence of technology with the advent of digital communications. Each area of communications, including wireline, wireless, broadcasting, satellite and cable, will be discussed in small panel sessions of leading experts in the government, private practice and academic community. The second day of the seminar will be highlighted by a panel led by Bryan Tramont, FCC Chief of Staff, discussing the future of communications technology.

The agenda as of late November is on pages 3-4, and a registration form is on page 15.

The FCBA to Host Three CLE Seminars in January

Several FCBA committee co-chairs and members have been busy planning CLE Seminars while most FCBA members were probably thinking about the holidays and end of the year celebrations. The New Year is off to a busy start with three distinct seminars on FCC Equipment Regulation on January 13, Implementing the FCC's Secondary Markets Order on January 28, and just added in time for the Presidential Primaries season, a timely seminar on the Political Broadcasting Regulations and the Bipartisan Campaign Reform Act of 2002, on January 29.

All seminars will be worth 2.0 credit hours and made available by telephone, to our members outside the D.C. metropolitan area. Details about these three seminars are on page 5, and the registration form for all three is on page 12.

Moot Court Competition Seeks Judges

The National Telecommunications Moot Court Competition Committee is seeking interested attorneys to serve as judges for the record-setting 14 law school teams that have signed up to participate in this season's competition. Judges are needed to grade briefs and to judge the oral arguments that will be held at Catholic University on Friday, February 20, and Saturday, February 21, 2004. Because of the large number of teams this year, many judges are needed, so if you can help, please contact Jennifer Wagner, wagner@fhhlaw.com. Thank you in advance for your interest and your participation in this season's competition.

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

DEAR MEMBERS:

Whether you ushered in the New Year with a big bang or simply enjoyed a quiet evening at home, I hope you all had the opportunity to spend some time relaxing with family and friends over the holiday season. If you're anything like me, you look forward to those few precious days when the hubbub of the season quiets down and the stirrings associated with ringing in the New Year are but a distant rumble. But then, as soon as the clock strikes midnight on December 31, I'm off to the races, filled with new energy and ready to tackle new challenges - even cleaning out the garage.

At the FCBA, we're engaged in a similar effort as we put the busy fall season behind us and look ahead to the next six months. The events calendar is still quite full, with three Continuing Legal Education programs scheduled for January and the ever-popular Comm Law 101 Seminar taking place in early February. But the Association is also attending to a bit of administrative housekeeping that will help us serve you more effectively in the months ahead. Although much of this effort will occur behind the scenes, I'm sure that you will sense the changes as we continue to improve our processes and the ways in which we deliver services to you.

For example, a floating group of dedicated FCBA members has been working for some time to bring greater order to how we approach the many dedicated organizations that sponsor FCBA events over the course of the year. With the help of the FCBA's professional staff, this group is actively researching the most effective and efficient means of soliciting sponsorship support for different FCBA and Foundation activities. By the start of the FCBA's next fiscal year in July 2004, we hope to be able to work individually with Association sponsors to let them know what the principle sponsorship opportunities for the year will be and to coordinate their sponsorship participation in a manner that best suits their needs. Special thanks go to Carolyn Groves and Yaron Dori, who are currently leading this project, and the many other FCBA members who have lent a hand so far to this ongoing effort.

On another administrative front, we are working hard to streamline the production of the FCBA's printed Membership Directory. The online directory is a terrific tool that has been enthusiastically embraced by our members. But the printed directory continues to be of great value as well. By computerizing its production and reducing the amount of manual labor that traditionally has gone into printing the directory, I am confident that we will be able to deliver it to members each year in a timely fashion.

Other administrative issues on the front burner include whether and, if so how, to expand our professional staff to better serve our members, and how better to use technology (such as online credit card processing and database management software) to reduce the amount of time our staff spends on administrative matters so that they can increase the amount of time they spend on program activities. With a volunteer association as large, as busy, and as leanly staffed as the FCBA, it is easy to get stuck in "reactive mode." But with a concerted effort, we intend to become more proactive, affirmatively seeking out solutions that will make us more efficient and effective. As the intended beneficiaries of this undertaking, any thoughts you may have on these issues are most welcome. So stay tuned, stay active and enjoy the New Year!

Comm Law 101: Everything You Wanted (or Didn't Want) to Know About Communications Technology

Tuesday,
February 3, 2004

*Georgetown University Law Center -
600 New Jersey Avenue, NW
McDonough Hall (use 2nd Street Entrance)*

8:00 a.m.-4:00 p.m.

REGISTRATION

Moot Court Lobby

8:45 a.m.

WELCOME

Moot Court Room

Alexandra M. Wilson, FCBA President

9:00-9:45 a.m.

INTRODUCTION TO TELECOMMUNICATIONS TECHNOLOGY

What are the major communications technologies today? How did they evolve and what are their current capabilities? This kick-off lecture will provide a general overview of traditional communications technology platforms and set the stage for the detailed panel discussions to follow.

Speaker:

Dale Hatfield, Adjunct Professor,
University of Colorado at Boulder, and former Chief of the FCC's Office of Engineering and Technology

9:45-10:45 a.m.

WIRELINE TECHNOLOGY

This panel discussion will provide an overview of wireline network architecture, including traditional circuit-switching technology and more recent packet-switching technology, including

Voice over Internet Protocol (VoIP). The panel will describe the principle network components and how wireline communications systems transmit voice and data communications. The panel also will provide a backdrop for understanding key regulatory telephone issues pending before the FCC.

Moderator:

Matthew Brill, Co-Chair, FCBA Common
Carrier Practice Committee

Panelists:

Jeffrey Goldthorp, FCC Office of
Engineering and Technology
Stagg Newman, McKinsey & Co. (and former FCC Chief Technologist)
Andre Fuetsch, SBC Communications

10:45-11:00 a.m.

BREAK

11:00-12:00 p.m.

CABLE TECHNOLOGY

Once used simply to transmit analog television programming, the cable network has evolved into a digital platform that can provide a full range of two-way services. The panel will provide an overview of cable network architecture, including those components used to deliver the new services - including digital and interactive video, high-speed Internet, circuit-switched telephony and VoIP - that have become the focus of policymakers' analysis. The panelists will then discuss how cable's ability to enter new lines of business is shaping communications regulatory debates.

Moderator:

Quyen Truong, Co-Chair, FCBA Cable
Practice Committee

Panelists:

Stagg Newman, McKinsey & Co. (and
former FCC Chief Technologist)
Richard Mueller, Cox Communications
Steve Craddock, Comcast

12:00-12:15 p.m.

DEPART GULC FOR HYATT HOTEL -

400 New Jersey Avenue

12:15-1:15 p.m.

LUNCH

Hyatt Hotel

Columbia A-B

Keynote Address by FCC

Commissioner Kathleen Abernathy

1:15 p.m.

RETURN TO GEORGETOWN UNIVERSITY LAW CENTER'S MOOT COURT ROOM

1:30-2:30 p.m.

WIRELESS TECHNOLOGY

Wireless communications devices, once seen as high-end business tools or even expensive "toys," have become a reliable mainstay of everyday life. Their use is exploding around us, from cell phones to WiFi to Bluetooth to wireless PDAs and laptops. Panelists will tell you how various networks and devices work and how both technological innovation and policy decisions have led to their current ubiquity. The panel will also discuss new technologies on the horizon and the challenges policy makers face as a result of technological change.

Moderator:

Charla Rath, Co-Chair, FCBA Wireless
Practice Committee

Panelists:

Julius Knapp, FCC Office of Engineering and Technology
Steve Sharkey, Motorola
Pres Marshall, DoD Defense Advanced
Research Projects Agency

2:30-3:30 p.m.

SATELLITE TECHNOLOGY

This panel will provide an overview of basic satellite technology including how various satellite networks operate. It will then explore recent technological changes in the satellite area. Technological changes such as the use of spot beams and data compression have dramatically altered the area of satellite communications. Panelists will discuss these changes, as well as future technological changes, from an engineering, legal and business perspective.

Kimberly Baum, SES Americom

3:30-3:45 p.m.

3:45-4:45p.m. BROADCASTING TECHNOLOGY

This panel will utilize a Q&A format to explore the transition of broadcast technology into the digital age and the resulting challenges and opportunities from technological, legal and business perspectives. Bringing together key players from the FCC, the National Broadcasting Company (NBC), the National Association of Broadcasters, the Consumer Electronics Association, and Public Knowledge, the panel will explore current controversies and future trends in digital content, broadband transmission, consumer products, and media and information policy. As the moderator of this panel, Ellen Goodman will bring to bear expertise derived through years of grappling with these issues in legal practice and in academia.

Moderator:

Ellen Goodman, Associate Professor, Rutgers University School of Law and Of Counsel to Covington & Burling

TECHNOLOGICAL CONVERGENCE

Moot Court Room

How is digital technology transforming the communications industry? Are technologies really converging, or does it just look that way? What differences will remain between communications technologies at the end of the day, and how can government policymakers, industry participants and consumers best prepare for the digital future?

Speaker:

Dale Hatfield, Adjunct Professor, University of Colorado at Boulder, and former Chief of the FCC's Office of Engineering and Technology

10:00-10:15 a.m.
BREAK

10:15-11:45 a.m.
THE NEXT BIG THING

Now that we understand today's communications technologies, what's just around the corner and how will it affect our daily lives? Which new technologies are likely to capture the mass market's attention and which ones are likely to serve niche markets? These panelists will discuss the breaking technological innovations in their fields of expertise that they expect to have the most profound effect on communications in the future.

FCBA Website Has a Brand New Look

In case you haven't noticed, the FCBA's website has been upgraded to make navigation easier in addition to its new color scheme. Although there are still updates being made to it, most of the changes in the switch over from the old site to the new have been made. This project was done in conjunction with the designing of a new FCBA Membership Brochure. The

Membership and Marketing Committee co-chairs, Chuck Keller, Melissa Reed and McLean Sieverding, with the help of members Carolyn

Brandon and Ryan Wallach, have been working on membership recruitment efforts for the past several months. The improved website and new brochure available for distribution at various industry and FCBA events will supplement the committee's efforts.

If you have any questions about the new website or the brochure, contact Heidi Kurtz, heidi@fcba.org or 202-293-4000.

FCC Equipment Regulation - January 13

On Tuesday, January 13, 2004, the FCBA will be hosting a CLE Seminar on FCC Equipment Regulation from 6:00 - 8:15 p.m. The CLE will be held at the offices of Skadden, Arps, Slate, Meagher & Flom, LLP, 700 14th Street, N.W., Eleventh Floor, Washington, D.C., and will be worth 2.0 credits. Registration information is on page 12.

Arcane mysteries revealed how the FCC regulates transmitters, computers, telephones, and so much more. Learn about equipment authorizations: certification, verification, Declaration of Conformity, and telephone registration. Help your clients understand which products are regulated (and why), how equipment testing is done, how the FCC lab handles certification applications, and how it supervises the registration of terminal equipment such as telephones and modems. Find out about FCC enforcement on equipment issues, and how your client may be affected by an investigation.

This non-technical, two-hour session is for the communications lawyer whose clients need advice on the manufacture, sale, or use of FCC-regulated devices.

Learn from the experts: speakers include FCC officials directly responsible for the areas discussed.

Implementing the FCC's Secondary Markets Order - January 28

The FCBA's Wireless Practice Committee is sponsoring a CLE Seminar, "Implementing the FCC's Secondary Markets Order," on Wednesday, January 28, 2004, from 6:00 to 8:15 p.m. at the offices of Wiley, Rein and Fielding, 1750 K Street, NW, 10th Floor.

In October 2003 the FCC released its Secondary Market Order that changes 40 years of control precedent and establishes new ground rules for licensees to lease their spectrum to third parties. The seminar will begin with a brief overview of the FCC's Order by a distinguished senior FCC staffer and then focus on how various parties, including licensees, lessees and brokers, can take advantage of these new leasing rules. It will look beyond more traditional carrier-to-carrier leases and also explore opportunities that could arise for new wireless products and services.

Details on speakers will be available in early January via email. This seminar will be worth 2.0 credits. Registration information is on page 12.

Political Broadcasting Regulations - January 29

The Mass Media Practice Committee plans to conduct a CLE seminar on "Political Broadcasting Regulations and the Bipartisan Campaign Reform Act of 2002," on Thursday, January 29, 2004, from 6:00 to 8:15 p.m., in the 8th Floor Conference Room of Dow Lohnes & Albertson, PLLC, at 1200 New Hampshire Avenue, N.W. The panelists will include: Bobby Baker, Assistant Chief, Policy Division, Media Bureau, FCC; Jack Goodman, VP/General Counsel, National Association of Broadcasters; and Dawn Sciarrino.

The seminar will be worth 2.0 credit hours and any updates or changes will be announced via email. Registration information is on page 12.

FCBA Seminar West 2004: Date Correction and Kick-off Call

Save the date to join us for Seminar West 2004 at the Claremont Resort & Spa in Berkeley, California. We incorrectly reported the date for the seminar in the last newsletter. The correct dates for the seminar are Saturday afternoon, September 18, 2004, to Monday morning, September 20, 2004.

We welcome any members who would like to participate on the organizing committee. The first committee kick-off call will take place on January 14, 2004 at 11:00 a.m. PST/ 2:00 p.m. EST. For more details, please contact Michael Van Eckhardt at michaelvaneckhardt@dwt.com or Anne Hoge at hoge@yahoo-inc.com.

IN MEMORIAM

Edgar W. Holtz

Edgar W. Holtz, who served as President of the FCBA in 1977-78, died of cancer in Vero Beach, Florida on December 1. He had resided in Vero Beach since 1987 with his wife of 59 years, Alberta Brinkley "Abby" Holtz. Mr. Holtz is also survived by two daughters, Dianna Jamieson of Chevy Chase, and Heidi Holtz-Eakin of Fayetteville, New York, as well as four grandchildren.

Ed Holtz was born in Clarksburg, West Virginia. He graduated from Denison University and the University of Cincinnati law school. Prior to arriving in Washington, he served as assistant city solicitor for Cincinnati. In 1955, Mr. Holtz began his career as a communications attorney. He worked for the Federal Communications Commission from 1955 to 1960, where he became associate general counsel before joining Hogan & Hartson. He remained with Hogan & Hartson from 1960 until 1987. At Hogan & Hartson, Mr. Holtz specialized in broadcast, newspaper and corporate matters and was a senior partner of the firm when he retired.

Mr. Holtz served as an Army Air Forces bombardier in Europe during World War II. Among his decorations was the Distinguished Flying Cross and three awards of the Air Medal.

The following is a personal recollection piece on Mr. Holtz that Executive Committee Member and Delegate to the ABA, Clark Wadlow has contributed:

Ed Holtz – A Personal Recollection

BY R. CLARK WADLOW

Ed Holtz, a Past President of the FCBA, recently passed away. Ed was a World War II veteran with a strong sense of justice. He was a terrific lawyer and an even better person. He had a quick mind, a gregarious personality, and a teasing sense of humor. He was one of my mentors.

Most of our current members probably never met Ed. He was President of the Association in 1977-1978, and he retired from practice in 1987. But all of our members owe Ed a great debt of gratitude. During his term as President he made a fundamental change in the FCBA that benefits us all to this day

In the 1970's, the FCBA had no staff. Each President would select a young lawyer in his (no women having been elected President until Linda Cinciotta in 1980) law firm to act as his FCBA staff assistant for a year. I was an associate at Hogan & Hartson and I was dragooned by Ed. Together, Ed and I ran the operations of the FCBA. It was a lot of work, and a lot of fun. It was a great way for a young lawyer to meet people in the bar and to learn about how the bar and the agency worked.

At that time, the FCBA Constitution and By-Laws prohibited FCC employees from being members. That seems inconceivable today. It is even difficult to understand the rationale behind the prohibition. The argument made by those in favor of the prohibition was that, since the FCBA represented those lawyers who practiced before the FCC, it would somehow compromise FCC employees if they were to be members. Ed, who was a former Assistant GC of the FCC, thought the prohibition was wrong. It offended his sense of justice. He also thought that the employees of the agency were a great source of potential new members.

There had been prior efforts to change the policy, but they had all failed. Ed successfully urged the FCBA Executive Committee to conduct a special referendum of its full membership on the issue, as part of the annual election process. The completed ballots were mailed to Ed's office at Hogan & Hartson. One evening, Ed sent me out to buy a six-pack of beer and the two of us then sat in a conference room, tallying the election results and counting the votes on the referendum. Despite the beer, it was tedious work. About halfway through the process, Ed teasingly said that it really made no difference what the final referendum vote was - - even if the measure failed to pass, he believed so strongly that it was the right thing to do that he was prepared to announce that it had passed. Nonetheless, we kept on counting and the measure did pass, narrowly as I recall.

As a result, FCC employees were first permitted to become members of the FCBA in 1978. It was the right thing to do and it was long overdue. While we have all benefited from the participation of so many FCC employees over the years since then, in a way their contributions are a testament to Ed Holtz.

For my part, I still wonder if Ed would really have announced that the measure had passed, even if it had not. It is of course a moot point. But for his part, I am confident that Ed would get a good laugh out of my uncertainty.

Richard M. Riehl

Dick Riehl, a longtime FCBA member, former Branch Chief at the FCC and later member of the law firm Haley, Bader & Potts, died of leukemia on December 3 at the age of 73. He was predeceased in 1997 by Betty, his wife of 33 years. He is survived by five children, Pamela Holloway of Swanton, MD, Kurt Riehl of Harrisburg, PA, Greg Riehl of Atlanta, GA, and Mark Riehl and Scott Riehl, both of Fairfax, VA.

Dick was born in California. He graduated from Stanford University and the University of San Francisco Law School.

He was in the Marines during the Korean War, stationed in Japan, but sent to the battlefield in Korea when the enemy broke across the border. He sustained serious injuries in the resulting combat, for which he was awarded the Purple Heart.

He came to Washington to work for the FCC, where he was known as a vigorous and effective trial attorney in the Hearing Division in what was then known as the Broadcast Bureau. In 1963 he left the Commission to work for the State Department, from which he was deployed as a security officer to Bonn, Budapest, Prague and Vienna. In 1967 he returned to the FCC as Chief of its Transfer Branch.

He left the Commission in 1974 to become a partner in Haley, Bader &

Potts, where he did litigation and transactional work. A colleague at the firm described him as a “bulldog ... indefatigable. A client’s lawyer. When you hired Dick, you were rewarded with an advocate in the highest and best sense of the word.” He conquered cancer of the esophagus in the 1970’s “... and stopped smoking cold turkey, never once complained about the pain he experienced in radiation treatments.”

Dick Riehl retired from the practice of law in 1997. He moved from Fairfax, Virginia, to Deep Creek Lake. His death was at a hospital in Morgantown, West Virginia.

Abbott M. Washburn, FCC Commissioner from 1974 to 1982, died at age 88 of a stroke on December 11, in Washington, D.C.

FCBA FOUNDATION NEWS

Chairman Robert E. Lee Scholarship and Internship Fund for Law Students

In 1993 the Foundation established a Scholarship and Internship Fund in memory of former Federal Communications Commission (FCC) Chairman Robert E. Lee, who passed away in April 1993 after serving on the FCC for almost thirty years. Chairman Lee served as a Commissioner of the FCC for 28 years and was instrumental in the early development of color television, among other contributions to federal communications policy.

For the eleventh consecutive year, the Federal Communications Bar Association Foundation will award stipends to law students from its Chairman Robert E. Lee Scholarship and Internship Fund. In 2004, the Foundation will award at least four $2,500 stipends to law students employed as unpaid summer interns in positions with the FCC and other government Agencies or entities with jurisdiction over the communications industry (i.e., broadcasting, cable television, telephony, satellites and information technology).

Applicants will be selected on the basis of: (1) having secured or having pending, an unpaid summer position (internship) in communications with government offices, (2) a demonstrated interest in the communications field, (3) dependence on financial assistance in order to accept an unpaid internship in a government agency involved in communications, and (4) involvement in community activities. Applications for a Lee Fund scholarship will be posted on the front page of the FCBA Website as of January 9, 2004 - www.fcba.org.

Volunteers for McKenna’s Wagon on January 25

FCBA volunteers will meet to assist Martha’s Table’s, mobile soup kitchen, McKenna’s Wagon on Sunday, January 25. Volunteers will meet on Sunday afternoon at Martha’s Table before they depart with the van of food to selected locations. To volunteer, or for more information about McKenna’s Wagon, please contact: Tom Van Wazer - 202-736-8119 - tvawaze@sidley.com.

Volunteer at Martha’s Table on January 25

On Sunday, January 25, the FCBA Foundation volunteers will be helping at Martha’s Table from 10:00 a.m. until 1:00 p.m., to assist in the preparation of meals for the District’s homeless population. Family and friends are welcome to join us. As many have discovered, this is a great event for children as well. Martha’s Table feeds hundreds of hungry, homeless adults and children on the streets of Washington daily, through its mobile soup kitchen, McKenna’s Wagon. Please bring sandwich fixings (bread and sandwich meat) with you, as the center often runs out of donated food.

Martha’s Table is located in a yellow building at 2114 Fourteenth Street, NW, in the District, near the intersection of 14th and U Streets. On-street parking is available. For more information, contact Howard Weiss at 703-812-0471 (weiss@fhhlaw.com) or Chris Wood at 202-939-7903 (cwood@fw-law.com).

The 17th Annual Chairman's Dinner

The International Ballroom of the Washington Hilton was jammed with 1,550 FCBA members and guests on December 4th for the 17th Annual FCC Chairman's Dinner honoring FCC Chairman Michael K. Powell.

This year's special guests included FCC Commissioners Kathleen Abernathy, Kevin Martin, Michael Copps, and Jonathan Adelstein.

After being introduced by FCBA President Alexandra Wilson, the Chairman gave a lively speech about some of the industry's current events. Following his speech, the Chairman prompted the now "traditional" videotape. (The video's theme two-fold, whether or not he is leaving the Commission this year, and about the Chairman wanting to change his image.)

Special thanks to co-chairs Clark Wadlow, Bob Pettit, and Frank Lloyd whose efforts helped make the dinner an overwhelming success.

Proceeds of the FCBA's 14th Annual Charity in the amount of over $60,000 were announced by FCBA President, Alexandra Wilson. This year's auction recipient was the Spanish Education Development Center. President Wilson also announced that the FCBA Foundation would receive over $30,000 from the sponsor's tables at this year's event.

Nominations Open for 2004 Elections

Pursuant to Article V, Section 20 of the Association's Bylaws, the FCBA's Nominations Committee is beginning the process of preparing the ballot for the 2004 annual election. Positions to be filled are: President-Elect; Secretary; Assistant Secretary; Assistant Treasurer; Chapter Representative to the Executive Committee; three (3) members of the Executive Committee; three (3) members of the Nominations Committee; and three (5) FCBA Foundation Trustees.

The first step of this process is for members to notify the Nominations Committee of their interest in being nominated, or to recommend other members for consideration for nomination. Nominations should be sent to FCBA Past President and Chair of the Nominations Committee, Peter D. Shields, via email, pshields@wrf.com. Please give the name of the member to be considered for nomination and the office they are being recommended for by January 9, 2004.

The Nominations Committee will present a slate of nominations to the membership via email and the newsletter. At that point, members will have the option of making additional nominations as outlined in the Bylaws. Election ballots will be mailed to all members in April.

PLEASE FAX THIS FORM TO: Wendy Parish, Federal Communications Bar Association, Fax: (202) 293-4317

CLE CREDIT: FCBA will be requesting accreditation from the State Bars of Virginia and California for continuing legal education credit. If approved, forms for Virginia and California will be available at the Seminar Registration Desk. Please note that FCBA does not obtain CLE credit for other states. The FCBA will, however, assist with applications to other states, but attorneys must apply individually for credit courses and submit any forms and payments necessary directly to the state bar. The number of credits corresponds with the number of hours of course time, i.e., a two-hour seminar equals 2.0 hours of credit.

TO RESPOND TO JOB BANK LISTINGS

If the employer is listed, send the information requested directly to the employer. If you are responding to a BLIND BOX listing, send ONE COPY of the information requested to Heidi Kurtz, Federal Communications Bar Association, 1020 19th Street, NW, Suite 325, Washington, DC 20036-6101, or EMAIL it to heidi@fcba.org. Please clearly indicate the Blind Box number to which you are responding. If you are applying to a Blind Box, you may enclose a separate note to the FCBA specifying any organization to which you do not wish your application to be forwarded. Responses to Blind Box listings can be accepted only from FCBA members.

“Share the Love” and Volunteer at the Legal Walk-in Clinic

The next Bread for the City Legal Walk In Clinic date is Saturday, February 14. Tell your friends!

The FCBA's Young Lawyers Committee organizes volunteers to spend three hours once a quarter helping lower income individuals through a clinic sponsored by the DC Bar. We co-volunteer with the DOJ Antitrust Division. Attorneys receive a half-hour overview/orientation beginning at 9:30 am over bagels and juice. Volunteers are expected to assist clients only during the time they are at the clinic. No special legal knowledge is needed — attorneys generally need to keep an eye out for potential legal issues while using their common sense to solve a myriad of questions and make referrals to other organizations. Experienced attorneys on-site will assist FCBA attorneys and other volunteers with any questions. Previous attendees have described this as “the most satisfying volunteer experience I've had as an attorney.”

You must either be a member of the DC Bar, have an application pending to the DC bar, or be an employee of the federal government to provide advice. Those who are not DC bar members, paralegals and law students are needed, however, to provide intake and triage. Law students can have the opportunity to sit in on advice sessions. Remember, dress is casual, but respectful. Bring a pen.

The clinic is located at Bread for the City, 1525 7th St., NW Washington DC. Metro accessible on the Green line, Howard University Metro station, exit at 8th & R Streets.

Please email Cheryl Leanza if you would like to participate: cleanza@mediaaccess.org.

If you would like more information about the clinic, their web site is: <http://www.breadforthecity.org/>
