18th Annual FCBA Foundation Golf Tournament to be held Tuesday, June 3

You've spoken! The feedback we received to the changes for last year's Tournament were so overwhelmingly positive we've decided to do it all again!

On Tuesday, June 3, we will return to Westfields Golf Club – a course that all of last year's participants found to be a remarkably beautiful and pristine track, especially for a course so close to downtown DC. Westfields Golf Club, just off Route 66 in Clifton, VA, is a Fred Couples designed course and one of best in the area -- while still being fun and accessible for the high-handicappers among us. Westfields is also considered one of the best places in the area to hold a golf outing, combining a great course with terrific hospitality.

Additionally, we will be repeating last year's well received change by holding the Tourney on Tuesday afternoon in order to allow our workaholic friends to get in a few hours at the office (or plenty of time to warm up on the range). Shotgun start will be at 1:00 p.m. followed by a delicious post-round Buffet BBQ Dinner.

As always, all of the proceeds from the Tournament go straight to the FCBA Foundation to support its wonderful programs, including the Scholarship programs and the Summer Legal Internship program. Over the years, the Tournament has raised nearly $400,000 for the FCBA Foundation charities, all under the auspices of getting together with your colleagues for an enjoyable day of golf! Our goal and motto: "What a great concept: Do good and have fun at the same time!" We hope you can join us this year!

Volunteer at Martha's Table on April 27

On Sunday, April 27 from 10:00 a.m. – 1:00 p.m., the FCBA will be preparing and distributing food at the FCBA Foundation's partner charity, Martha's Table. The FCBA has been meeting monthly to volunteer at Martha's Table for many years. Martha's Table feeds hundreds of homeless adults and children on the streets of Washington daily, through its mobile soup kitchen. Martha's Table is located in a yellow building at 2114 Fourteenth Street, NW, in the District, near the intersection of 14th and U Streets. On-street parking is available. Volunteers are asked to bring food if possible, (e.g., cold cuts, bread, peanut butter, jelly, vegetables and potatoes) because the center often runs out of donated food.

Please mark your calendars, bring your friends and children, and participate in this great volunteer effort. If you are able to volunteer, please contact Howard Weiss at 703-812-0471, weiss@fhhlaw.com.

The FCBA volunteers on the last Sunday of every month, so mark your calendars now!

Thursday, April 17, 6:00 – 8:15 p.m. Advancing the Advanced Wireless Services Auction: Next Steps in Law, Policy, and Implementation

The FCBA Wireless Telecommunications Committee will host a CLE on Thursday, April 17 from 6:00 – 8:15 p.m. entitled “Advancing the Advanced Wireless Services Auction: Next Steps in Law, Policy, and Implementation.” This program will be held at Wiley Rein LLP, 1776 K Street, NW.

This CLE will explore the views of stakeholders in industry and government on the legal, policy, and implementation questions that must be answered to deliver on the promise of one of the largest spectrum auctions the Federal Communications Commission (“FCC”) has ever conducted. This auction will make available multiple swaths of spectrum that the FCC has grouped together and labeled AWS-3, the majority of which were identified in Section 6401 of the Middle Class Tax Relief and Job Creation Act of 2012 (“Spectrum Act”). This law directs the FCC to allocate a number of specific bands of spectrum for flexible commercial use. The FCC has moved to auction those bands among others in the 2013 Advanced Wireless Services Notice of Proposed Rulemaking (“AWS-3 NPRM”). In the AWS-3 NPRM, the FCC identified several key bands of spectrum for reallocation, including the 1695-1710 MHz, 1755-1780 MHz, 2020-2025 MHz, and 2155-2180 MHz bands. To meet the Spectrum Act’s deadline for licensing the spectrum by February 2015, the FCC, the National Telecommunications and Information Administration (NTIA), and the wireless industry have been hard at work to repurpose these critical spectrum bands to meet consumers’ mobile broadband demand, while facilitating continued government operations.

Monday, May 5, 6:00 – 8:15 p.m. NSA Telephonic and Electronic Surveillance: The Executive, Legislative and Judicial Drivers of Reform and Likely Outcomes

The FCBA Privacy and Data Security Committee will hold a rescheduled CLE on Monday, May 5 from 6:00 – 8:15 p.m. entitled “NSA Telephonic and Electronic Surveillance: The Executive, Legislative and Judicial Drivers of Reform and Likely Outcomes.” This program will be held at Drinker Biddle & Reath LLP, 1500 K Street, NW, Conference Room 2B.

On January 17, 2014, under pressure from domestic and foreign critics, including German Chancellor Angela Merkel, President Obama has announced structural reforms to the surveillance activities of the NSA, including storage and retention of telephone records data, and introduction of a new adversary process to FISA court decisionmaking. The President’s speech presaged the Privacy and Civil Liberties Oversight Board’s (“PCLOB”) Jan. 23, 2014 report concluding that the Section 215 bulk metadata collection program is unlawful. Since then, Congress has also introduced new legislation to reform the bulk metadata collection program has NSA and other law enforcement agency authority to conduct surveillance of “foreign communications” under the Foreign Intelligence Surveillance Act (FISA) and the USA Patriot Act. In the meantime, the U.S. District Court for the District of Columbia has held the NSA’s metadata collection program unconstitutional which the Justice Department has appealed to the DC Circuit. This CLE will examine judicial review of constitutionality of the NSA metadata collection program, and possible outcomes of the appeal process, pending Obama Administration/congressional reforms, and the likely short term and longer term scenarios for reform due to these various pressures on existing surveillance programs. This CLE will also examine how private industry, including carriers and ISPs, privacy advocates and the law enforcement community have been responding to these potential reforms.

To register, click here or go to the FCBA Website – Calendar of Events or use the form on page 29.

Agenda

6:00 – 6:05 p.m.
WELCOME AND INTRODUCTION

6:05 – 7:05 p.m.
THE KLAYMAN V. OBAMA INJUNCTION ORDER

What is the current legal status of Section 215 of the Patriot Act and NSA bulk telephone data collection? Will reforms be driven by the courts, executive reform or by congressional legislation? What reforms to NSA Section 215 data collection and the FISA process are likely to follow from President Obama’s January 17 speech and to the PCLOB report? What does the latest congressional legislation provide, and where do the Administration’s and Congress’ proposed reforms coincide? Where do they diverge?

Moderator:

David Valdez, Federal Communications Commission and Co-Chair, FCBA Privacy and Data Security Committee

Speakers:

Allan Friedman, Visiting Scholar, Cyber Security Policy and Research Institute, George Washington University

Amie Stepanovich, Senior Policy Counsel, Access (former Director of the Domestic Surveillance Project at the Electronic Privacy Information Center)

Marc J. Zwilling, Founding Partner, ZwillGen PLLC (former cybercrime prosecutor with the U.S. Department of Justice and FISA practitioner)

7:05 – 7:15 p.m.
BREAK

7:15 – 8:15 p.m.
OBAMA ADMINISTRATION AND CONGRESSIONAL REFORM INITIATIVES OF DOMESTIC AND FOREIGN SURVEILLANCE

How are carriers, ISPs and privacy advocates responding, publicly or privately? What are the various interests that carriers and ISPs must take into account in staking out positions with the U.S. Government on law enforcement access to telephone and Internet data? What is the position of the law enforcement community on substantive reforms of FISA and specifically the bulk metadata collection program? Has it evolved? Will enhanced privacy protection mean a diminution of national security protection? Predictions: What reforms are likely in the near term?

Moderator:

Douglas G. Bonner, Partner, Drinker Biddle & Reath LLP and Co-Chair, FCBA Privacy and Data Security Committee

Speakers:

Kevin Bankston, Policy Director, New American Foundation, Open Technology Institute (Invited)

Michael Sussman, Partner, Perkins Coie, LLP (Invited)

Marc J. Zwilling, Founding Partner, ZwillGen PLLC

Monday, May 12, 6:00 – 8:15 p.m. Transition to All IP Networks: Update on Issues and Progress at State Commissions

The FCBA State and Local Practice Committee will host a CLE on Monday, May 12 from 6:00 – 8:15 p.m. entitled “Transition to All IP Networks: Update on Issues and Progress at State Commissions.” This program will be held at a location to be determined.

State commissioners, including Pennsylvania PUC Commissioner James H. Cawley, and leading industry representatives will explore numerous issues for states as the FCC and industry transition from legacy analog copper networks to all-IP networks. What are the latest developments? What is coming next? What are the implications for interconnection agreements, universal service, consumer protection, low income customers, and rural customers beyond the reach of today’s digital networks?

Thursday, May 22, 6:00 – 8:15 p.m. Repacking Broadcasters: A Technical and Legal Discussion

The FCBA Engineering and Technical Committee will host a CLE on Thursday, May 22 from 6:00 – 8:15 p.m. entitled “Repacking Broadcasters: A Technical and Legal Discussion.” This program will be held at a location to be determined.

A critical component in the Broadcast Incentive Auction will be the repacking of the television broadcasters that remain on the air after the auction. This CLE will explore the legal, technical, and economic issues surrounding broadcaster participation and the repacking of remaining broadcasters. Attorneys, engineers, and economists from the wireless and broadcasting industries will share their thoughts and opinions.

Thursday, May 29, 6:00 – 8:00 p.m. Net Neutrality Redux: What Should the FCC Do?

The FCBA Wireline Committee will hold a CLE on Thursday, May 29 from 6:00 – 8:00 p.m. on the raging debate at the FCC and among industry and public interest stakeholders on what the Wheeler FCC should and will do next on Net Neutrality, in light of the D.C. Circuit’s decision largely striking down the Commission’s Net Neutrality rules but upholding its authority to regulate broadband services under section 706 of the Telecommunications Act. The CLE will feature perspectives from leading legal and policy experts regarding Net Neutrality. Further details and an agenda with speakers will be forthcoming soon.

Interested in Hosting an FCBA event?

The FCBA greatly appreciates the support of our members' firms and companies who provide space for our brown bag lunches, committee meetings, and CLE Seminars throughout the year. We are, however, always looking for new locations that can host FCBA events. We will be experimenting with some new presentation technology in future CLE seminars, which require more technical support than we have needed in the past.

In general terms, we need conference rooms that can seat at least 30 (more if possible) people at tables for brown bag lunches and committee meetings and conference rooms that can seat a minimum of 60 for CLE seminars. Firms and companies hosting brown bag lunches provide beverages and desserts; firms and companies hosting CLE seminars provide beverages and snacks. CLE seminars are generally held from 6:00 – 8:30 p.m. Additionally, for CLE seminars we need facilities that can provide technology support for microphones for as many as six speakers on a panel, the ability to tie the house sound system into a teleconference bridge, video projection capabilities for PowerPoint presentations, and access to the internet for Webinar services. If your firm or company has the needed conference room facilities and capabilities and would be willing to host future FCBA activities, please email Stan Zenor, stan@fcba.org, or Kerry Loughney, kerry@fcba.org.

WHAT'S NEW AT THE HOMESTEAD

Since the FCBA was last at the Homestead, there have been some significant changes throughout the resort.

The Spa at the Homestead has been completely renovated and expanded and features new treatment rooms, an Aqua Thermal Suite, and the Spa Garden. In the Spa Garden, dip into the natural hot springs or relax your muscles in a naturally-pressurized geothermal deluge shower. The river reflexology walk offers a one-of-a-kind massage for your feet with smooth stones amid a small stream of natural spring water. Poolside cabanas, a spring-fed pool and whirlpool and Finnish-style sauna are other key features of this exclusive garden experience.

The Spa offers a variety of signature services including the Southern Harvest Apricot and Sweet Vanilla Wrap, 1766 Mineral Bath, and Mineral Springs Mud Wrap. Virginia's classic spa also offers soothing and restorative massages, skin care and body therapies, and a fitness area with cardio/weight room and movement therapy rooms for yoga, cycling, and other classes. The Spa Garden is open to adults only, ages 18 and older. For more information on the Spa at the Homestead visit <http://www.thehomestead.com/spa>. A word of warning, the Spa always seems to be completely booked Friday and Saturday during the seminar. Reservations for the Spa should be made as far in advance as possible to ensure availability by calling 540-839-1776.

Allegheny Springs has expanded the outdoor pool complex into a two-acre water park fueled by water from our native springs. Experience the exhilarating

Make Your Reservations at The Homestead by April 24th

The FCBA's discounted room rates at The Homestead are guaranteed until April 24th. After April 24th, room rates may increase based on room availability and demand. Note that the special FCBA room rates include the 15% resort fee normally charged to guests and breakfast each morning in the main dining room.

Annual Seminar Ride Share — Room Share Program

The Young Lawyers Committee is once again helping to coordinate carpooling and room sharing for those interested in attending the FCBA Annual Seminar. If you are worried that you won't know anyone else at the Seminar or are interested in helping break up the expenses or share driving duties, please reach out to the YLC for more information. If you are a government employee, you should contact Kristine Fargotstein at Kristine.Fargotstein@fcc.gov. If you are not a government employee, you should sign-up for the YLC's carpool list and/or room share list by emailing Lindsey Tonsager at ltonsager@cov.com.

thrills of Mountain Rush, with two 100-foot water slides or enjoy a leisurely ride along our 400-foot lazy river. Kids love the water play zone and sandy beach while the large family pool is ideal for everyone. A cozy whirlpool provides an intimate haven adjacent to the family pool. Private cabanas, with exclusive services and amenities, are available for an additional fee. Allegheny Springs will be open Saturday and Sunday during the seminar.

Outdoor Activities at the Homestead can be as leisurely or as fast paced as you desire. There is something for everyone, including the new Mini Cascades Miniature Golf Course, horseback riding and carriage rides, a world-class shooting club, fly fishing with Orvis-endorsed instructors, miles of scenic hiking trails, indoor and outdoor pools, falconry, Segway tours, kayaking & canoeing, the Gun Club, paintball, archery, mountain biking, and more.

Dining at the Homestead has changed as well. Although all meals but Saturday lunch are included in your seminar registration, you may find time to visit one of the resort's establishments serving food and drink. Breakfast on Saturday and Sunday will be the famous brunch in the main dining room. Saturday you may want to visit the newly renovated Jefferson's Restaurant and Bar, the Casino Restaurant, Martha's Market, or enjoy in-room dining.

KidsClub and Babysitting at the Homestead provide special activities for your children while you are in the seminar sessions, at the spa, playing golf, or just enjoying the tranquility of the Homestead. For kids between the ages of 3 and 12, The Homestead's KidsClub is brimming with activity. Count on hours of supervised fun guaranteed to create lasting memories. Kids should wear comfortable, weather-appropriate clothes and shoes. Please also have them bring a bathing suit, sweater, or jacket. Children may be divided into two age groups: 3-7 and 8-12, and all participants must be potty-trained (no pull-ups or diapers). Pre-registration for both day and night programs is strongly encouraged. Need a babysitter? Not a problem at the Homestead. Babysitting is provided in the comfort of your room with the option for your sitter to take the children out and about. The first child is $18 per hour and each additional sibling is $5 per hour. A 24-hour advanced registration is required, and all requests are handled based on availability of services. Babysitting requires a two-hour minimum and a nominal fee applies. Babysitting observes a 24-hour cancellation policy or applicable fee. To make arrangements or for questions, please contact the Homestead Babysitting Coordinator at 540-839-7956. If you will want a babysitter anytime during the seminar, call and make those arrangements well in advance of your arrival. The demand for babysitters often exceeds the supply during the seminar.

Make your plans for the Annual Seminar now. Visit the Homestead's website for detailed information on the types of rooms available and on all the activities available for your enjoyment at <http://www.thehomestead.com>. Call or fax your room reservation in to make certain you get just the room you want. Call 540-839-1766 to make Spa appointments, to schedule that extra round of golf on Friday or Sunday, to make reservations for the KidsClub, to schedule a babysitter, or to schedule any of the other resort activities.

Make your plans now to join your colleagues for a great weekend at the 2014 Annual Seminar!

Special Thanks to our Annual Seminar Sponsors!

Charity Auction Thank You Gathering and Check Presentation

On March 8, members of the Charity Auction and Young Lawyers Committees attended a gathering to celebrate one of the beneficiaries of the FCBA's 2013 Charity Auction: Horizons Greater Washington. At the event, FCBA members were honored to present the organization with a check representing its portion of the auction proceeds. The 2013 Charity Auction raised approximately $140,000 to benefit both the FCBA Foundation and Horizons.

Relations with Other Bar Associations Committee

The 2013-14 FCBA Relations with Other Bar Associations Committee is completing preparations for the first-ever FCC/Bankruptcy Mini Conference with the American Bankruptcy Institute (ABI), the national voluntary bar association of the bankruptcy bar. The conference will take place at the J.W. Marriott Hotel on Thursday, April 24, immediately prior to the start of the ABI's national convention. The FCC/Bankruptcy Mini Conference will begin with registration and breakfast at 8:15 a.m. followed by two panel presentations and a further presentation during lunch from noon to 1:00 p.m. The program will make available 2.5 hours of CLE credit.

The lunch presentation will feature an interview and conversation on "A View from the Bankruptcy Bench on FCC-Related Issues" with the Honorable Kevin J. Carey, Judge, U.S. Bankruptcy Court for the District of Delaware and the Honorable Robert E. Gerber, Judge, U.S. Bankruptcy Court for the Southern District of New York. Bankruptcy courts for the District of Delaware and the Southern District of New York historically have handled the largest telecommunications and broadcasting bankruptcies.

Each of the panel presentations will feature bankruptcy and FCC practitioners who have served as advisors on the nation's most high profile FCC related Chapter 11 proceedings and who will provide their insights into successfully navigating a Chapter 11 case involving a communications or media company. The first panel, "The Lifecycle of an FCC Regulated Entity in Chapter 11," will focus on the points of intersection of FCC and bankruptcy law from initial filings to emergence from bankruptcy. The second panel, "Bumps in the Road in the Bankruptcy of an FCC-Regulated Entity," will address particular problems in Chapter 11 cases commenced by FCC-regulated entities. These include issues such as securing the value of FCC licenses in the face of FCC policy prohibiting liens on FCC licenses, the use of trust structures for early emergence from bankruptcy, and approaches for identifying and addressing impediments to reorganization presented by the FCC's media ownership and foreign ownership restrictions. The $125 registration fee includes the three presentations and the two meals. Registration information is available on the FCC's website. FCBA members Jack Goodman and Wayne Johnsen joined with the Committee Co-Chairs to form the Steering Committee for the FCBA/ABI Mini Conference.

The Committee on Relations with Other Bar Associations also represents the FCBA at monthly meetings of the Voluntary Bar Leadership Group of the District of Columbia Bar and seeks to foster mutually beneficial cooperative relationships between the FCBA and its committees and other voluntary bar associations.

If you have ideas for future programs or other comments, please contact the Committee Co-Chairs, Harry Martin of Fletcher, Heald & Hildreth (martin@fhhlaw.com), Jean Kiddoo of Bingham McCutchen LLP (jean.kiddoo@bingham.com), and John S. Logan of Cooley LLP (jlogan@cooley.com).

Kathleen Abernathy, Executive Vice President, Frontier Communications

By: Laura Phillips

I recently had an enjoyable lunch with longtime FCBA member and Executive Vice President of Frontier Communications, Kathleen Abernathy. Kathleen has been an FCBA member, and held a number of appointed and elected positions within the association, including as a past FCBA President in 1996-1997. She has enjoyed a varied and fascinating set of experiences within our legal and policy community, having worked in private practice, at the Federal Communications Commission as staffer and as a Commissioner, as well as having spent time formulating regulatory and legal policy in several prominent U.S. communications companies.

Q: What attracted you to the field of communications?

A: I went to night school at Catholic University of America at a time where they offered some communications law course offerings but did not yet have a full-fledged program. Starting with my fourth year of law school, I noticed the law firm of Fletcher Heald and Hildreth was looking for a full-time law clerk. Up until then I hadn't really thought much about communications law as a practice area but working at Fletcher Heald, assisting with comparative hearings broadcasting and those sorts of things, I found these topics interesting. Then I was fortunate that a woman partner came into the firm who did a fair amount of telecom work. This was about the time of the AT&T divestiture and she took me on as her associate; I learned a good bit about telecom law and policy from working with her and things just progressed from there.

Q: Tell me about your career progression and whether things have unfolded in the manner you envisioned.

A: I believe my career has progressed pretty much the way I hoped or envisioned, because at every stage I spent some time to think it through and made it a point to try to round out my experience. After graduating law school I had five years in private practice and during that time, I recognized that advocacy was really my strength. I went to Comsat Corporation to get a better sense of what it might be like to work on advocacy issues in a company and my contacts within the FCBA and the FCC ended up surfacing an opportunity for me to go work at the FCC, which was another place where I could learn and build on the foundation I was developing. I feel like I benefited significantly from my time at the FCC. I particularly enjoyed working directly with and for Commissioner Jim Quello. When an opportunity came to do regulatory work for AirTouch I thought it was the next logical step to round out my experience. Later, when I was tapped to become an FCC Commissioner, all of my prior experiences helped provide a framework for success. I would say that being nominated to serve as an FCC Commissioner was an experience something like being hit by a lightning strike in terms of its probability. Looking back on it, I appreciate that there were many qualified people in the mix, and that I was fortunate to have not only the right combination of the right skills, but people supporting me as a candidate for the position. After that special time at the Commission, I went back to private practice focusing on international communications policy because I had represented the US at a number of international conferences during my time as a Commissioner.

At the same time, upon leaving the Commission, I was invited to join the Frontier Communications board, and Frontier has a dynamic female CEO, whom I admired. I was then later asked to become Frontier's General Counsel and External Affairs Vice President, following a major acquisition. Today the role has been bifurcated and I concentrate on external affairs, working directly with the company's CEO, CFO and other critical decision makers. I love the interplay of regulatory policy with business strategy and working with the core business interests to chart a course of success for the company.

I have to say I am sort of amused by what seems like a not uncommon assumption that I was at the FCC for most of my career, as it's not the case. Only 7 1/2 years of my 30 years thus far in communications practice were spent at the FCC. While that was only a moment in time over the course of my career, the experiences were critical to shaping my path and providing many crucial experiences.

Q: What is the most challenging part of your current position and why?

A: I would say working at both the state and federal level we constantly encounter historical laws and regulations that are in conflict with the state of the communications marketplace today. Frontier, like some other companies, is constrained by legacy statutes, and existing law frequently doesn't make a lot of sense in the new world order. However, the future success of the company depends on managing all our costs, including regulatory costs. So the challenge is to chart a business path that somehow works despite the legacy laws and regulations that are sometimes outdated and challenging. Part of what I do with the regulatory team is educate regulators about what drives our business -- when and how we invest, what impacts the corporate decision making process, the number of competitors in the market, what drives customer decisions. The more informed state and federal regulators are about our business and about the business of our competitors, the better the public policy results.

Q: What are you reading now?

A: Well, I have a commute in to DC from Virginia and I found that books on tape is a terrific way to keep up with some books that I might not otherwise have time to read. The book I'm listening to now is "The Bully Pulpit: Theodore Roosevelt, William Howard Taft and the Golden Age of Journalism" by Doris Kearns Goodwin. It focuses a good bit on the beginnings of economic regulation in the context of the breakup of trusts and has been really informative in terms of better understanding the underpinnings of the statutory and policy regimes we have in place still today.

Q: What surprised or impressed you most about people you've worked with and why?

A: I've been impressed with the people who comprise the FCBA. Many of the people you encounter while practicing law become your personal friends. I don't think that that is as common in other areas of the legal practice. There is very little animosity or polarization that results from taking opposite sides in a proceeding. The people I have worked with are smart, dedicated, interesting and willing to help one another. It is not all about quid pro quo, it's about doing the right thing. It's just a great bunch of people.

Q: Can you share a perspective on pitfalls to avoid or other career advice for those who are just getting started in the communications field?

A: There is no question that the FCBA offers an incredible opportunity for younger professionals to develop leadership skills, particularly if you are willing to work hard at whatever task may be at hand. There is a qualitative difference in "doing" versus "running" something. I think in a law firm, or a company or even in the government, a young person may simply be working on a project doing delegated pieces, and that is to be expected as a junior member of a team. The FCBA provides anyone willing to step up with a chance to actually organize a project, such as, for example, the amazing work the young lawyers do with the annual charity auction. You have the opportunity to run a project versus simply working on one and it's an opportunity to demonstrate to yourself and others your abilities and skills. You also have the ready-made opportunity to develop a professional network and chart a path with the contacts you make when participating in a significant group effort. Your network may be able to assist you with valuable insights, and sometimes even job opportunities over the long-term. So I would say as a young lawyer, you should expand your horizons and see the bigger picture beyond the four walls of your office by taking an active part in all the FCBA has to offer.

Q: What's something interesting about you that people are not generally aware of you are willing to share?

A: Years ago I encouraged my husband to ski with me and he has become even more passionate about skiing than I am. It's something we really love to do together and we try to take a ski trip at least once a year. While it can be tough to find the time to get away, I force myself to block off the time. We love the skiing in Utah, and have found the summers out there to be terrific as well.

Q: How long have you been an FCBA member and what is the value of FCBA membership?

A: I have been FCBA member since 1983, my first year as a practicing lawyer. To me the value of FCBA membership includes the friendships I have formed along the way, the wonderful networking opportunities that come from attending events, the opportunity for advanced legal education in communications topics springing from CLEs and the Annual Seminar, and of course the special leadership opportunities in the FCBA that I have experienced.

Is there an FCBA member you'd like to see profiled in future columns? If so, please contact Laura Phillips at laura.phillips@dbr.com.

Volunteers Needed for Young Lawyers Committee Law School Outreach Program

It is time once again for the FCBA Young Lawyers Committee's annual law school outreach initiative. The goal of the initiative is to reach out to law students and introduce them to the FCBA and careers in communications law through sponsoring career panels at various law schools. We are currently looking for volunteers to speak on panels and help organize some events.

Career panels are being planned at the following law schools: American, Catholic, Colorado, Georgetown, George Mason, George Washington, Howard, Syracuse, and UDC. Please contact Joshua Bercu (JBercu@wbklaw.com) and Sean Spivey (sean.spivey@competitivecarriers.org) if you would like to help with this outreach effort and make 2014 another successful year for the program!

#ONLYHIPSTERSLOVEVINYL: NEW TECH AND THE CHANGING NATURE OF MEDIA LAW

The media landscape is changing so fast, it is impossible for the law to keep up. For lawyers navigating these uncharted waters, that can mean lots of new business – and more than a few headaches. If you want to stay ahead of new technology and your competition, anticipating change is key. To help you in this effort, we have assembled a panel of new tech experts, pioneers who will be helping push old media into a new frontier. They will discuss how media may change in the next decade and how laws built for the analog age will be strained by these changes.

NEWSGATHERING: SINGING A NEW TUNE IN THE SHADOW OF NATIONAL SECURITY AGENCY SURVEILLANCE

Former NSA contractor Edward Snowden's revelations – about “covert, clandestine, and cooperative large accesses” of private information seized by the NSA – have sparked an ongoing public debate about the proper balance between civil liberties, privacy, and security. Snowden's “whistle-blowing”/leaking drew accolades and criticism, his prosecution and asylum, shock and lawsuits by Americans, new surveillance guidelines from the Obama administration, political ramifications worldwide, controversy about big technology and private data storage in the Cloud, and more. Counsel for media organizations confront an ever-changing legal and technological landscape that affects how their clients gather news and the means by which they conduct their own digital and electronic communications. The panel will explore these, among other, thorny legal issues.

LAW FIRM / CORPORATE

4.1.14

Communications Law Attorney – DC Office of national law firm offers a unique opportunity for an attorney to take on primary responsibility for a substantial group of clients. Minimum 5 years experience in broadcast transactions and regulatory matters is required; experience in other communications areas and intellectual property law would be a plus. Ideal candidate will have portable portfolio of communications industry clients complementary to the firm's existing clients. The attorney would join the congenial Communications and Technology Group practice group of a growing mid-size firm with 5 offices in the U.S. We have excellent support staff and comprehensive benefits. Send resume to CareersDC@gsblaw.com. Garvey Schubert Barer is an Equal Opportunity Employer. Veterans and individuals and individuals with disabilities are encouraged to apply.

Communications Regulatory Associate – The Washington, DC office of Hogan Lovells seeks a junior to mid-level Communications regulatory associate with a minimum of 1 year of communications regulatory experience. Experience working on communications-related litigation or commercial matters is a plus. Our global Communications regulatory practice encompasses all major industry sectors, but the successful candidate would focus primarily on wireless, telecommunications, cable and broadband-related issues. Duties to include legal research, writing, and oral advocacy before the FCC, NTIA, Congress, and other government agencies and counseling clients on legal, policy, commercial, and technology matters. DC bar membership or eligibility preferred, along with strong academic credentials, excellent research, writing and oral communication skills, and a demonstrated ability to perform effectively in a law firm environment. Please include writing sample(s), preferably advocacy-oriented. Please submit cover letter, resume and law school transcript in confidence to the attention of Suzanne Hudgens, Associate Recruitment Coordinator, at JoinHoganLovellsDC@hoganlovells.com.

Hogan Lovells is an Equal Opportunity Employer. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, pregnancy, age, national origin, disability, sexual orientation, gender identity or expression, marital status, genetic information or protected Veteran status.

Executive Director of the Center for Technology, Innovation and Competition (CTIC) – Penn Law is one of the nation's oldest and most distinguished law schools. The school offers a distinctive cross-disciplinary legal education, drawing on the depth and breadth of the University of Pennsylvania. The resulting intellectual opportunities and professional relationships bridge traditional boundaries and disciplines, making Penn Law an extraordinarily supportive academic community for its scholars and students alike.

The Center for Technology, Innovation and Competition (CTIC) is dedicated to promoting foundational research that will shape and reshape the way legislators, regulatory authorities, and scholars think about technology policy and has established itself as a hub of interdisciplinary discourse on issues pertaining to intellectual property, cyber law, privacy, and related fields. Reporting to the Faculty Director, the Executive Director of CTIC will ensure a rigorous agenda of activities, research, and recommendations, will communicate CTIC's important research to a host of audiences, and will promote and steward the organization.

Specific Responsibilities:

- Develop a long-term strategy for the continued growth of CTIC research and programming.
- Develop and implement a calendar of CTIC programs and events, including conferences, faculty workshops, visiting scholar residencies, faculty fellowships, and monthly meetings of the directors.
- Compose and publish original content to further CTIC's visibility and reputation, including developing and implementing content for the CTIC website, blogging, engaging in social media outreach, and drafting and designing CTIC's periodic reports.

- Develop and implement a strategy for publicizing CTIC research, events, and fellowships.
- Lead the process of building bridges to faculty in other parts of the University, policymakers, and legal and industry professionals with interests related to CTIC.
- Manage staff consisting of CTIC faculty fellows and CTIC student fellows.
- Spearhead the creation of new and enhanced student-oriented programs, including direction of CTIC student fellowships and internships, cooperation with Penn Law's student-led Penn Intellectual Property Group, and collaboration with joint degree programs relevant to CTIC programs and research.
- Raise funds for CTIC programs and research by identifying and developing new funding sources and finding new ways to enhance CTIC's relationships with existing funding sources.
- Identify and evaluate curricular needs in areas related to CTIC and recruit adjunct faculty to fill those needs.
- Teach or co-teach classes to enrich the upper-level curriculum in areas related to CTIC's mission.

Requirements:

- J.D. or other related advanced degree preferred; B.A. or B.S. required. A background in engineering may prove beneficial.
- Seven to ten years of experience, with a minimum three years of administrative responsibility, demonstrating an ability to design and implement events and program budgets over an extended period of time.
- Established track record as collaborator in the workplace, within the immediate department and within a larger institution.
- Experience representing a sophisticated organization in a variety of public and internal forums.
- Experience as a fundraiser valued.
- Teaching experience preferred.

Learn more about CTIC (<http://www.law.upenn.edu/academics/institutes/ctic>) and about Penn Law (<https://www.law.upenn.edu/>).

To Apply:

Please e-mail your letter of interest with cv/resume to Jo-Ann Verrier, Vice Dean for Administrative Services, at jverrier@law.upenn.edu.

FCBA AND WBA'S FOURTH ANNUAL Mentoring Supper

On Wednesday, February 26, 2014, the Young Lawyers Committee, in partnership with the Communications Law Forum of the Women's Bar Association of the District of Columbia, hosted its Fourth Annual Mentoring Supper. Held at the law offices of Hogan Lovells US LLP, the program featured many prominent practitioners in the field of communications law acting as mentors to a diverse group of young lawyers and law students with an interest in practicing in this area.

The program began by spotlighting Joseph Di Scipio of Fox Television Stations, Inc. and Rebekah Douglas of the FCC to set the stage for the evening. Introduced by FCBA Young Lawyers Committee Co-chair Lindsey Tonsager, this mentor and mentee described how their mentoring relationship evolved and how these connections benefited their careers and contributed to their career development. This discussion provided an informative and valuable look at mentoring in action and showcased the advantages that mentoring can provide to mentor and mentee alike.

The rest of the program was structured as three series of mentoring sessions, with attendees seated at tables for six. Each table included two or three mentors, joined by three or four mentees to discuss their careers and professional development, all while enjoying a delicious dinner and dessert. The mentors led the discussion, relating the career paths that brought them to their current positions and responsibilities and describing the jobs they held along the way. Attendees were encouraged to ask any questions of the mentors, including those about career development and opportunities for professional growth. After a set time period, the mentors moved to another table to continue the dialogue with another group of mentees. This format allowed the mentees to meet and learn from multiple mentors and hear different perspectives about the varied career paths available to communications lawyers.

The co-chairs of the FCBA's Young Lawyers Committee – Lindsey Tonsager of Covington & Burling LLP and Justin Faulb of the National Association of Broadcasters – and the three co-chairs of the WBA's Communications Law Forum – Lynne Milne of the FCC, Laura Mow of The Law Office of Laura C. Mow, and Natalie Roisman of Wilkinson Barker Knauer, LLP – engaged in months of preparation for this evening program. These co-chairs very much appreciate the other mentors who volunteered their time to provide welcome career advice to the mentees participating in this program, including Ryan Wallach of Comcast Corporation, Julie Kearney of Consumer Electronics Association, Yaron Dori of Covington & Burling LLP, Krista Witanowski of CTIA – The Wireless Association, Laura Phillips of Drinker Biddle & Reath LLP, Brett Freedson of Eckert Seamans Cherin & Mellott LLC, Daniel Alvarez, Brendan Carr, Rebekah Douglas, Renee Gregory, Nese Guendelsberger, Gigi Sohn and Philip Verveer of FCC, Mary Beth Richards, formerly of FCC and FTC, Joseph Di Scipio of Fox Television Stations, Inc., Megan Anne Stull of Google, Mark Brennan and Michele Farquhar of Hogan Lovells US LLP, Richard Whitt of Motorola Mobility, Jane Mago of National Association of Broadcasters, Gregory Lewis and Michelle Shanahan of National Public Radio, Margaret Tobey of NBCUniversal, Jennifer Duane and Angela Simpson of NTIA, Monica Desai of Patton Boggs LLP, Luisa Lancetti of T-Mobile US, Inc., Robert Branson of Verizon, Megan Brown and Peter Shields of Wiley Rein LLP, Scott Blake Harris and Rosemary Harold of Wilkinson Barker Knauer, LLP, Nirali Patel of Willkie Farr & Gallagher LLP, and Patricia Paoletta and Christopher Wright of Wiltshire & Grannis LLP.

The Young Lawyers Committee and the WBA's Communications Law Forum thank the law firm of Hogan Lovells US LLP for graciously hosting this event for the fourth time. This mentoring program would not have been possible without the additional financial contributions of this program's other sponsors: CenturyLink, Inc., Comcast Corporation, Consumer Electronics Association, Covington & Burling LLP, DIRECTV, Inc., Drinker Biddle & Reath LLP, Eckert Seamans Cherin & Mellott, LLC, Frontier Communications Corporation, Motorola Mobility, National Association of Broadcasters, T-Mobile US, Inc., Wilkinson Barker Knauer, LLP, Willkie Farr & Gallagher LLP, and Wiltshire & Grannis LLP.

FCC/Bankruptcy Mini Conference:

The Intersection of the FCC and Bankruptcy Law

Thursday, April 24

J.W. Marriott - Washington, D.C.

In recent years, a number of high-profile communications and media companies have sought chapter 11 protection. ABI is partnering with the Federal Communications Bar Association to present a joint conference that will explore the intersection of bankruptcy and FCC law in these complex chapter 11 proceedings.

This half-day seminar will begin with an examination of the life cycle of a chapter 11 case involving an FCC-regulated entity, starting with the FCC's policies on the filing of a chapter 11 petition and the continuity of the entity's operations during the chapter 11 case, and concluding with issues relating to the plan of reorganization and emergence requirements. The program will also cover advanced topics that have arisen in the country's most complex FCC-regulated-entity chapter 11 cases, including the grant of security interests in FCC licenses, the use of trust arrangements to permit early emergence from chapter 11, and mechanisms to address the FCC's foreign-ownership limitations in connection with chapter 11 emergence. The faculty is comprised of leading advisors from the nation's most high-profile media cases, who will provide their insight into successfully navigating a chapter 11 case of a communications or media company.
