Wednesday, February 8, 3:00 – 5:15 p.m. Securing Spectrum: Unlicensed Technologies, Connected Vehicles, and Privacy

The FCBA Engineering and Technical and Wireless Telecommunications Committees will host a CLE on Wednesday, February 8 from 3:00 – 5:15 p.m. entitled “Securing Spectrum: Unlicensed Technologies, Connected Vehicles, and Privacy.” This program will be held at CTIA, 1400 16th Street, NW, Suite 600.

Developments in the 5.9 GHz band are bringing security issues into focus. As unlicensed communications and connected vehicle spectrum needs expand, policy makers, industry leaders and public interest groups are discussing how best to secure their transmissions from spectral interference and data breaches. How will latency sensitive transportation infrastructure and unlicensed services coexist in the U-NII-4 band? How can regulatory decisions support innovation and commerce without impairing public safety or privacy? This CLE addresses transportation technologies and digital privacy against a backdrop of communications law and jurisdiction, in the context of unlicensed technologies and dedicated short-range communications (DSRC). Speakers will provide regulatory updates, share insights, and suggest approaches to balancing current and future needs of multiple spectrum users.

To register, click here or go to the FCBA Website – Calendar of Events or use the form on page 12.

Agenda

3:00 – 3:05 p.m.
WELCOME AND INTRODUCTIONS

3:05 – 3:30 p.m.
Julius Knapp, Chief, Office of Engineering & Technology, Federal Communications Commission

3:30 – 4:15 p.m.
STATE OF PLAY: CONNECTED VEHICLES AND UNLICENSED
TECHNOLOGIES IN THE 5.9
GHZ BAND

Access to spectrum is necessary for connected vehicle communications and for innovative unlicensed uses. The FCC has committed to complete testing of potential 5.9 GHz spectrum sharing technologies by January 15, 2017. The NHTSA has proposed to enable vehicle-to-vehicle (V2V) communication technology on all new light-duty vehicles. Will commercial applications, such as wireless LTE and new radar technologies, improve highway safety as well as, or in place of, DSRC infrastructure? How should applications that are not safety-of-life be defined and addressed? This panel will provide regulatory updates, discuss opportunities for development of the U-NII-4 band, and consider beneficial paths forward.

Moderator:
Angela Giancarlo, Government
Relations Partner, Mayer Brown LLP

Speakers:

Erin McGrath, Legal Advisor, Office of Commissioner O’Rielly, Federal Communications Commission
Ari Fitzgerald, Partner, Hogan Lovells US LLP

John Kuzin, Vice President and Regulatory Counsel, Qualcomm
Dr. Mark Cooper, Director of Research, Consumer Federation of America

4:15 – 4:25 p.m.
BREAK

4:25 – 5:15 p.m.
CYBERSECURITY, PRIVACY, AND COLLISION AVOIDANCE

Will DSRC communications be safe and secure? Will commercial vehicle systems architectures and telematics expose consumer information to unacceptable digital threat levels, or is cybersecurity sufficiently strong? This panel will discuss government and industry efforts addressing concerns that connected vehicle technologies, through onboard services such as mobile payments, advertising, and infotainment, could provide attack vectors for malware, personal data theft, and vehicle collisions.

Moderator:

Megan Brown, Partner, Wiley Rein LLP

Speakers:

Harry Lightsey, Executive Director, Global Connected Customer, Public Policy, General Motors
Kevin Gay, Chief of the Intelligent Transportation Systems (ITS) Policy, Architecture, and Knowledge Transfer group, ITS Joint Program Office, U.S. Department of Transportation
Steve Bayless, Vice President, Technology & Markets / Senior Director of Telecommunications & Telematics, Intelligent Transportation Society of America
John Gasparini, Policy Fellow, Public Knowledge

Thursday, February 16, 12:00 – 1:45 p.m. Addressing the Privacy and Security Challenges of the Internet of Things

The FCBA Privacy and Data Security Committee will sponsor a CLE on Thursday, February 16 from 12:00 – 1:45 p.m. entitled “Addressing the Privacy and Security Challenges of the Internet of Things.” This program will be held at Verizon, 1300 I Street, NW, 5th Floor.

It is expected that by 2020, 25 billion “smart” devices will be wirelessly connected to the Internet. This “Internet of Things” raises challenging privacy and security issues. This program will discuss the federal government’s role in addressing the evolving privacy and security issues, and the views of industry and public interest organizations on the appropriate governmental role.

To register, click here or go to the FCBA Website – Calendar of Events or use the form on page 12.

Tuesday, February 21, 6:00 – 8:30 p.m. Legal Issues in the Transition to ATSC 3.0

The FCBA’s Mass Media and Video Programming and Distribution Committees will host a CLE on Tuesday, February 21 from 6:00 – 8:30 p.m. entitled “Legal Issues in the Transition to ATSC 3.0.” The program will be held at Wiley Rein, 1776 K Street, NW.

The CLE will include three panels looking at various issues that will arise in television stations’ transition to a new transmission standard. The first panel will provide background about the new standard and discuss the status of the FCC’s rulemaking proceeding and the issues that it will address. The second panel will explore the financial impacts of ATSC 3.0 and legal questions involved in stations sharing facilities as part of the transition. The third panel will discuss the impact of a new standard on MVPDs and other distributors of television signals.

Tuesday, March 21, 2:00 – 6:00 p.m. 12th Annual ABA/ FCBA Privacy and Data Security Symposium The Future of Privacy & Data Security Under the Trump Administration

The FCBA Privacy and Data Security Committee and the ABA Forum on Communications Law will hold the 12th Annual Privacy & Data Security Symposium on Tuesday, March 21 from 2:00 – 6:00 p.m. This CLE will be held at a location to be determined in Washington, DC.

The tumultuous and widely unexpected outcome of the 2016 election creates a good deal of uncertainty about what is in store for privacy and security under a Trump administration. After one of the most contentious periods at the Federal Communications Commission in recent memory, with a high number of party-line votes, broadband privacy is among many items likely to be reconsidered with Republican commissioners in the majority at the Commission. While the Federal Trade Commission has appeared to conduct its business with a priority on bipartisan consensus, the direction of this agency also could shift under Republican leadership. Actions of both agencies and the courts could solidify jurisdictional gaps while levelling regulatory frameworks (or eliminating one altogether). With both houses of Congress and the White House in control of the same party for the first time in six years, the potential for legislation on a wide array of privacy and security issues is newly elevated.

This year's Symposium will explore what we can expect from the FCC, the FTC, the courts, the States and Congress in the year ahead.

To register, click here or go to the FCBA Website – Calendar of Events or use the form on page 12.

Note that ABA Forum on Communications Law members attending in person may not register online. Please download the form and fax, mail, or email it.

Agenda

KEYNOTE: "POLICY PRIORITIES FOR THE TRUMP ADMINISTRATION"

Acting Chairman Maureen K. Ohlhausen, Federal Trade Commission

SESSION I – "THE FCC'S BROADBAND PRIVACY RULES, THE FTC'S COMMON CARRIER EXEMPTION AND OTHER HOT TOPICS IN 2017"

With a Republican controlled FCC, the odds are high that petitions to reconsider the agency's Broadband Privacy Order will get careful consideration alongside a potential undoing of the classification of broadband as a telecommunications service. Looming in the background however is the Ninth Circuit decision in FTC v. AT&T Mobility LLC, which found the FTC does not have jurisdiction over an entity with common carrier status. The FCC is also very involved in cybersecurity matters. In light of the Trump Administration's doubts regarding claims of foreign actors' unauthorized access to the nation's computer infrastructure, will cybersecurity continue to be a top priority at the FCC and other agencies? Our panel of experts will explore how these developments are likely to unfold in the early days of the Trump administration and the impact such events are likely to have on businesses and consumers for broadband, the Internet of Things, and new technology.

SESSION II – CONGRESS'S PRIVACY AND DATA SECURITY PRIORITIES FOR 2017

With both the legislative branch and the executive branch under a single party's control again after six years, the table is set for consideration of a broad Communications Act re-write and for consideration of a wide array of legislation that could impact the Internet, broadband, the Internet of Things and related privacy and data security issues domestically and internationally. Court cases and broader issues such as the battle over Net Neutrality and cross-border data transfers with the European Union, and the increasing involvement of the States in privacy and data security matters, are likely to color the debate. This panel of experts will explore Congress's expected priorities and aspirations with respect to legislation and oversight of privacy and data security issues.

Young Lawyers Committee Hosts Educational Brown Bag Lunch to Discuss FCC Transition

The Young Lawyers Committee hosted a “Transition 101” brown bag lunch on Tuesday, January 24. Over a dozen young lawyers gathered for an insightful and informal discussion with former FCC Chairman Richard Wiley (Wiley Rein) and Dr. Brian Fontes (NENA), moderated by Caroline Van Wie (AT&T).

Both Chairman Wiley and Dr. Fontes worked through several FCC transitions and provided guidance to YLC members on the highlights (and lowlights) of an FCC transition. The panelists discussed the nuts-and-bolts of transitions generally and what younger practitioners might expect from the incoming Pai administration.

The YLC would like to thank Chairman Wiley and Dr. Fontes for sharing their time and their experiences and Ms. Van Wie for moderating such an informative discussion. If you have an idea for a brown bag topic or would be interested in hosting a YLC event at your workplace, please contact Kristine Fargotstein (kristine.fargotstein@fcc.gov) and Sean Spivey (sean.spivey@hoganlovells.com).

As a small business woman, author, mother, grandmother, and Member of Congress, Marsha Blackburn has dedicated her service to making America a more prosperous place to live.

No stranger to adversity and hard work, Marsha went to college on a 4-H scholarship and worked her way through school selling books for the Southwestern Company.

Whether it is was leading the fight to defeat the proposed state income tax during her time in the Tennessee State Senate or her efforts in Congress to restore fiscal responsibility, Marsha has fought tirelessly for the principles and values that unite conservatives. Representing Tennessee's 7th District, Marsha continues to advocate for a small, efficient federal government that is accountable to its citizens.

Marsha has been honored with the Distinguished Leader Award from the Susan B. Anthony Foundation, the Iron Jawed Angel Award for Excellence in Public Service, an honorary doctorate in letters from King University, the Congressional Grammy by the Recording Academy, and the Health IT Now Innovation Award among others. She currently holds a seat on the House Energy and Commerce Committee serving as Chairman of the Subcommittee on Communications and Technology.

Marsha and her husband Chuck live in Williamson County, Tennessee. They have two children, Mary Morgan (Paul) Ketchel and Chad (Hillary) Blackburn; and two grandsons. Blackburn is a native of Laurel, Mississippi and graduate of Mississippi State University.

Volunteers Needed for Young Lawyers Committee Law School Outreach Program

It is time once again for the FCBA Young Lawyers Committee's annual law school outreach initiative. The goal of the initiative is to reach out to law students and introduce them to the FCBA and careers in communications law through sponsoring career panels at various law schools. We are currently looking for volunteers to speak on panels and help organize the events.

Please contact Bill Durdach (williamdurdach@gmail.com), Tim Doughty (timothy.doughty@gmail.com), Lauren McCarty (laurenmcct@gmail.com), and Calisha Myers (calisha.myers@gmail.com) if you would like to help with this outreach effort and make 2017 another successful year for the program!

Wednesday, February 15, 6:30 – 9:00 p.m. Seventh Annual Mentoring Supper

Calling all young lawyers, law students, and lawyers in transition! Register today for the Seventh Annual Mentoring Supper from 6:30 – 9:00 p.m. on Wednesday, February 15, 2017. This popular, joint program of the FCBA's Young Lawyers Committee and the Women's Bar Association's Communications Law Forum will be held at Hogan Lovells US LLP, Columbia Square, 555 Thirteenth Street, NW. Space is sure to be limited, so don't wait! Register at www.wbadc.org.

The Seventh Annual Mentoring Supper is an opportunity for young lawyers, law students, and lawyers in transition to interact with distinguished members of the communications bar while enjoying a catered dinner. Mentees will be paired with mentors in small groups, allowing for substantive discussions about career development and related topics. An outstanding roster of experienced lawyers have agreed to serve as mentors for this program, representing an incredible breadth of private and public businesses, federal agencies, large and boutique private law firms, trade associations, and non-profits. Help Bring Digital Equality to DC with Byte Back

Last year, the FCBA Foundation announced a new partnership with Washington DC's Byte Back to give FCBA members new opportunities for volunteering their time and skills to benefit those in need. The Foundation is excited about expanding our partnership in 2017 and the article below offers a brief introduction for FCBA members to Byte Back's meaningful work. We look forward to announcing more opportunities for learning about and volunteering with Byte Back soon.

Imagine waking up this morning without being able to check your email from home. Imagine you're searching for a job but without the ability to use the internet. For thousands of people in the District, this is a daily reality, and Byte Back is here to change it.

For 20 years, Byte Back has been improving economic opportunity by providing computer training and career preparation to underserved Washington, DC area residents. The digital divide is still felt by many, including adults of all ages, who struggle to search for a job online, create their resumes in Word, and perform well in a digital workplace.

In 2016, we accomplished a lot – we totally restructured our program to make it easier for our students to move up our training pathway into living-wage jobs, and we invested more in Career Services programming. We know 2017 is going to be even better.

We are looking forward to a lot of positive changes this year, and your support will help fuel our incredible 20th year. With the community involved and invested, we will continue to shrink the digital divide.

We have many volunteer opportunities, whether you have a few hours to give or more:

- Short: 1-3 hours (can be one-time)
 - Resume Helper – Assist students in writing and tailoring resumes and cover letters during drop-in job club sessions

Byte Back classes in DC help people find empowerment through digital training and career preparation. The organization runs with the help of volunteers and is currently looking for instructors, mentors, and more.

- Workshop Presenter – Share your professional experiences with students
- Mid: 4-6 hours per month
 - Tutor – Help students master basic computer and software processes (once or ongoing)
 - Mentor – Share your wealth of professional experience with a student, and help them shape their career (ongoing for four months)
- Longer: about 4 hours per week for 6 weeks
 - Instructor – Teach a digital literacy course using our provided curriculum

Join the movement to bring digital equality to the District – fill out a volunteer application today at www.byteback.org/volunteer.

FCBA Foundation 2017 College Scholarship Program: Application Now Available

The FCBA Foundation is gearing up for its 2017 College Scholarship Program, which provides financial assistance and laptop computers to DC public high school students to assist them in attending college. For over 21 years, the Foundation has helped over 200 local high school students attend college with scholarship awards ranging from several thousand dollars up to $28,000, payable over four years.

The Foundation committed over $271,000 to its 2016 scholarship class, which was comprised of 20 graduating seniors who were selected because of their academic achievements and service to school and community.

The Foundation's updated web-based application lets interested high school seniors, who are matriculating to college next fall, apply for a scholarship online.

The application is available at <https://fcbafoundationcollege.awardspring.com/>.

The deadline for submission of applications is Friday, February 24, 2017. The Foundation plans to conduct interviews of promising applicants during the week of April 17, 2017 timeframe, and to notify successful applicants regarding their scholarship awards by mid-May 2017.

If you have any questions about the application or the FCBA Foundation College Scholarship program, please contact the FCBA offices at 202-293-4000 or by email at starsha@fcba.org.

FCBA Foundation 2017 Law School Scholarship Program: Application Now Available

The FCBA Foundation is gearing up for its 2017 Law School Scholarship Program, which provides financial assistance to rising second or third year students currently enrolled in accredited law schools in the United States who have a demonstrated interest in pursuing a career in communications law. The scholarships range from $2,500 – $5,000 each, and will be payable to the applicable law school in one lump sum to help the student with tuition or other education-related expenses.

The Foundation's updated web-based application lets interested law school students apply for a scholarship online. The application is available at <https://fcbafoundationlaw.awardspring.com>.

The deadline for submission of applications will be Monday, April 3, 2017. The Foundation plans to notify successful applicants regarding their scholarship awards by Monday, May 15, 2017.

If you have any questions about the application, please contact the FCBA offices at 202-293-4000 or by email at starsha@fcba.org.

FCBA Foundation 2017 Law School Summer Stipend Program: Application Now Available

For the 24th consecutive year, the FCBA Foundation will award stipends to law students from its Chairman Robert E. Lee Scholarship and Internship Fund. Chairman Lee served as a Commissioner of the Federal Communications Commission (FCC) for 28 years and was instrumental in the early development of color television, among other contributions to federal communications policy.

The program provides stipends of up to $5,000 to outstanding law students employed as unpaid summer interns in positions with the FCC and other federal,

Interested in Hosting an FCBA event?

The FCBA greatly appreciates the support of our members' firms and companies who provide space for our brown bag lunches, committee meetings, and CLE Seminars throughout the year. We are, however, always looking for new locations that can host FCBA events.

In general, we need conference rooms that can seat at least 30 people at tables for brown bag lunches and committee meetings and conference rooms that can seat at least 60 people theatre style for CLE seminars. Firms and companies hosting brown bag lunches provide beverages and desserts; firms and companies hosting CLE seminars provide beverages and snacks. Brown bag lunches are generally held from 12:00 – 1:30 p.m. and CLE seminars are generally held from 12:00 – 2:15 p.m., 3:00 – 5:15 p.m., or 6:00 – 8:30 p.m. Additionally, for CLE seminars we need facilities that can provide technology support for microphones for as many as six speakers on a panel, the ability to tie the house sound system into a teleconference bridge, and video projection capabilities for PowerPoint presentations. If your firm or company has the needed conference room facilities and capabilities and would be willing to host future FCBA activities, please email Kerry Loughney, kerry@fcba.org or Starsha Valentine, starsha@fcba.org.

state and local government agencies with a connection to the communications industry (i.e., broadcasting, cable, information technology, television, telephony, satellite, and wireless). Applications will be accepted online starting January 15th through March 24th, 2017. No exceptions will be made for late filed applications.

In addition, the Foundation will select one outstanding intern among those chosen to receive and additional stipend for the summer: the Max Paglin Award. Mr. Paglin was the former General Counsel and Executive Director of the FCC and the founder of the Golden Jubilee Commission on Telecommunications, which compiled a definitive history of the Communications Act.

The Foundation considers funding from other sources in making award decisions and generally will adjust its stipend awards so that a recipient's total funding for the internship will not exceed $7,000.

REQUIREMENTS

Students must be enrolled in an ABA accredited law school, in good academic standing, and have a pending or accepted application for an unpaid internship with a federal, state or local government entity. Students will be selected on the basis of:

- Essays – 30 points
- Resume and Recommendations – 25 points

- Academic Merit (including relevant coursework, certificate programs, journals and clinics) – 25 points
- Nature of Work – 10 points
- Financial Need – 10 points

Applications for internship funding should be submitted online at <https://fcbafoundationlaw.awardspring.com>. Applicants may be asked to interview with members of the Foundation Board; interviews may be conducted by telephone.

If you have any questions about the Foundation Law School Summer Internship Stipend program or application, please contact the FCBA offices at 202-293-4000 or by email at starsha@fcba.org.
