PRESIDENT'S Message

DEAR FELLOW MEMBERS:

Happy World Series Championship to all the Nats fans out there, and to the Expos fans, and to all the people like me who are vaguely aware that there is a sport called “baseball” and that a local team seems to have done pretty well at it this year. Hopefully you all have gotten Baby Shark out of your head.

Now that Game of Thrones has disappointed everyone with its ending, I suppose we can't make “Winter is Coming” jokes anymore. But it is! And while that means we're in for a few months of leaden skies and incessantly repetitive Christmas song playlists, it also means that we're getting into best part of the FCBA's calendar. The Charity Auction is just around the corner, and Krista Witanowski and I are looking forward to serving as your celebrity emcees for an evening of insane, over-the-top charity giving. Hopefully we'll do better than whomever is hosting the Oscars this year. After that, we have the Chairman's Dinner—still at the Washington Hilton, as always, but on a Tuesday this year! All the best parties are on Tuesdays, from what I hear.

Following that, in January, we're looking to try something new. Our President-elect, Natalie Roisman, is organizing the FCBA's first Women's Summit on January 29. This will be a half-day program focusing on issues that most directly impact women's leadership in communications law and policy. More details to come, but please save the date and feel free to contact Natalie if you have questions or would like to join the planning committee.

That event is just one of the ways that the FCBA is looking to focus on diversity and inclusion this year. Another is the Diversity Pipeline Program, which I've mentioned in this column before. That Ad Hoc Committee, led by Rudy Brioché, Celia Lewis, Diane Holland, Natalie, and our former President Lee Petro, is working with the Executive Committee and several volunteer subcommittees to develop and implement a program that will introduce more law students of diverse backgrounds to communications law and help expand their career opportunities. If you have questions or suggestions, please reach out to one of the Committee chairs.

Finally, a big thanks to Barry Ohlson for organizing another great happy hour event for the fall, which started as an Oktoberfest/Halloween mashup and ended up as a Nationals tailgate party. We'll be looking to do another one of those happy hours, too, sometime when winter seems darkest. Stay tuned for details. Please do not hesitate to reach out to me with your questions, comments, and recommendations at: jturner@wileyrein.com or 202-719-4807.

Tuesday, November 19, 6:00 – 8:15 p.m. “The California Consumer Privacy Act (CCPA): Policy and Operational Issues, as January 1, 2020 Approaches”

The FCBA Privacy and Data Security Committee will sponsor a CLE on Tuesday, November 19 from 6:00 – 8:15 p.m. entitled “The California Consumer Privacy Act (CCPA): Policy and Operational Issues, as January 1, 2020 Approaches.” This program will be held at Drinker Biddle & Reath LLP, 1500 K Street, NW.

The California Consumer Privacy Act (CCPA), signed into law on June 28, 2018 by Governor Jerry Brown, made waves as California raised the bar in the absence of a federal consumer privacy and data protection law. Now, over a year later, the CCPA is less than two months away from another major milestone: its January 1, 2020 effective date. Governor Gavin Newsom has signed five bills that further amend the CCPA and the California Office of the Attorney General (OAG) has released its proposed implementing rules. Join the FCBA’s Privacy and Data Security Committee to discuss where the CCPA stands as policy and how companies can prepare for the fast-approaching effective date.

To register, click here or go to the FCBA Website – Calendar of Events or use the form on page 21.

Agenda

6:00 – 6:05 p.m.

WELCOME AND INTRODUCTION

6:05 – 7:05 p.m.

CCPA FROM A POLICY PERSPECTIVE

Much remains to be seen in terms of impacts and outcomes stemming from the implementation and enforcement of the CCPA, for both companies and consumers. This uncertainty, however, has not diminished the debate over the CCPA from a policy perspective. Understanding the law’s contents and probing whether it is sound public policy remains an important exercise. Parsing the CCPA also helps distinguish it from other recent privacy legislation, such as the bills signed into law in Nevada and Maine, or even the European Union’s sweeping General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR). Panelists will address these topics, as well as how the CCPA might influence or coexist with federal privacy legislation.

Moderator:

Robert J. Gastner, Co-Chair, FCBA Privacy & Data Security Committee; and Partner, Eckert Seamans Cherin & Mellott LLC

Speakers:

John Heitmann, Co-Chair, FCBA Privacy & Data Security Committee; and Partner and Chair, Communications Group, Kelley Drye & Warren LLP

Additional Speakers to Be Announced

7:05 – 7:15 p.m.

BREAK

7:15 – 8:15 p.m.

PREPARING FOR JANUARY 1, 2020: OPERATIONALIZING THE CCPA

Companies should have a clear understanding of their path to compliance and their relative exposure to legal risk. Most significantly, the CCPA provides consumers with the right to access and delete the data that companies gather on them. In addressing such requests, companies will need to have robust frameworks and best practices in place to reduce liability and achieve compliance. This panel will cover potential hurdles companies may face in preparing for these and other unique aspects of the CCPA.

Moderator:

Jeremy Berkowitz, Co-Chair, FCBA Privacy and Data Security Committee; and Principal, Privacy and Data Protection Practice, Promontory Financial Group

Speakers:

Jacqueline Cooney, Senior Director, Privacy and Cybersecurity, Paul Hastings

Additional Speakers to Be Announced

The panel will also discuss proposals for 5G co-channel sharing with satellite delivery and the use of exclusion zones around C-Band earth stations, the debate around whether fiber is a viable near-term alternative for content distribution versus the use of advanced C-Band compression technologies to increase the amount of re-purposed spectrum, and questions surrounding FCC authority to pursue various alternatives in the absence of new legislation.

However, individuals who have signed the Administration’s Ethics pledge cannot accept invitations from registered lobbying organizations or registered lobbyists. Some agencies, departments and branches of the Federal Government may apply additional stipulations above the regulations issued by the Office of Government Ethics. While this event has qualified as a widely attended gathering in previous years, each FCC employee is required to obtain individual ethics clearance based on matters they are working on within the Commission. Employees of the Commerce Department are required to obtain individual ethics clearance through the Department’s Office of General Counsel. Invitations to Members of Congress, Congressional Staff, and employees of the Department of State must be issued by the FCBA. Contact the FCBA for additional information.

Requests for invitations to be sent from the FCBA must be emailed to kerry@fcba.org by Friday, November 15. Invitees will be placed at the discretion of the FCBA.

Are you a member who can add to our programming as a speaker? Do you know someone who is? Can you think of a topic that should be the subject of an event?

The FCBA invites you to send your ideas! Our committees are always looking for potential speakers from diverse backgrounds. The Diversity Committee is compiling a database of FCBA members who want to add to the conversation on substantive topics as speakers and moderators. If you are interested, please send an email to Janeen Wynn, janeen@fcba.org, with your name, affiliation, and topics about which you have knowledge with the subject line “FCBA Speakers Bureau.” The Diversity Committee will compile this database on a rolling basis and make it available to all committee co-chairs. FCBA committee co-chairs should feel free to use the Diversity Committee as a resource when identifying speakers or moderators for other events.

The Internet of Things Committee

Machine-to-machine devices are projected to account for more than half of connected devices by 2021. The Internet of things (IoT) revolution is expected to enable improved efficiencies in processes, products, and services across every economic sector. Driven by a projected $275 billion investment from telecom operators, 5G networks are expected to create 3 million new IoT-based jobs and boost annual U.S. gross domestic product by $500 billion. With these incredible innovations both at the network and edge provider levels, it is important for attorneys to examine how these technologies alter the regulatory and legal landscape; this is particularly true in the telecommunications sector due to IoT's reliance on broadband and wireless networks. The FCBA's IoT Committee seeks to convene thought-provoking discussions surrounding various IoT use cases and the legal and policy concerns involved when using or deploying such technologies.

If you have ideas or comments for the Internet of Things Committee, please contact the co-chairs: Steve Augustino (saugustino@kelleydrye.com); Jared Carlson (jared.carlson@ericsson.com); Celia Lewis (celia.lewis@fcc.gov); Meredith Singer (msinger@wileyrein.com); Laura Stefani (lastefani@mintz.com); and Joel Thayer (jthayer@actonline.org).

Young Lawyers Committee Universal Service Fund Seminar held October 2

On October 2, the Young Lawyers Committee hosted a Universal Service Fund seminar with keynote remarks by FCC Commissioner Michael O'Rielly. Commissioner O'Rielly opened the event by addressing his USF initiatives and taking questions from the audience. The seminar also featured a USF 101 session, during which a panel of young lawyers described the Fund and each of its four programs. Following that, a panel of industry leaders took a deeper dive into the current state of the USF programs.

The event was held at the Georgetown offices of Kelley Drye & Warren, which highlights recent USF news and developments in its monthly USF Tracker. Thank you to the speakers and their various organizations for sharing their perspectives and to those who attended.

New England Chapter "Whither the Traditional Telephone Network?" Program held October 15, 2019

The New England Chapter held its annual fall program in association with the Boston University College of Communication on October 15, 2019. Entitled "Whither the Traditional Telephone Network?," the program explored the legal and regulatory issues surrounding the current regulatory, business and policy aspects of incumbent local exchange carrier (ILEC) copper networks that were opened to competitive use on a resale and unbundled network element (UNE) basis in the Telecommunications Act of 1996 and are now in a state of change due to ILEC investments in fiber networks and associated copper retirements, growth of alternative networks, and deregulatory initiatives at both state and federal levels.

Following welcoming remarks by Chapter Co-Chair Sarah Aceves and new B.U. College of Communication Dean Mariette DiChristina, who commented on her own uneasiness deciding whether to maintain a wireline phone line in her new Boston area residence, the first panel featured overview remarks by Sherry Lichtenberg, Ph.D., Deputy Director and Principal for Telecommunications Research and Policy at NRRI followed by interactive discussion among Dr. Lichtenberg, Professor Daniel Lyons of Boston College Law School and Dr. Anna Maria Kovacs, Visiting Senior Policy Scholar at the Center for Business and Public Policy at the McDonough School of Business at Georgetown University, moderated by Chapter Co-Chair Greg Kennan. Dr. Lichtenberg opened by pointing out that even though we are approximately at Day 3000 of the National Broadband Plan, with its assumption of a national buildout of updated plant, and that the vast majority of states have largely deregulated wireline networks and next generation voice-over-Internet Protocol (VOIP) networks, large portions of the country retain relatively large numbers of customers lacking market-based alternatives to time-division multiplexed (TDM) switched services over legacy copper networks at regulated resale and UNE rates. As the panelists noted, the public switched telephone network may be in decline as ILECs transition from telephone companies into technology companies having revenue sources other than telephone operations, but copper networks remain important for consumers, especially in rural areas, and universal service efforts cannot complete the transition to fiber without a substantially enhanced funding model not solely reliant on assessments upon a shrinking set of wireline telecom consumers. The recent August 2019 Federal Communications Commission Forbearance Decision sunseting most resale discounts and UNE services over copper, following a transition period, is being strongly opposed on appeal by national competitive local exchange carriers and consumer groups and will pose challenge for rural competitors if allowed to take effect.

Chapter Co-Chair Rob Munnelly moderated the second panel with Trina Bragdon, General Counsel and Vice President of Human Resources and Regulatory Affairs at Otelco; Sarah Davis, Senior Director of Government Affairs and Wholesale Strategies at Consolidated Communications; Clay Purvis, Director for Telecommunications and Connectivity for the Vermont Department of Public Service; Sana Sheikh, Senior Corporate Counsel at Granite Telecommunications; and Paul Vasington, Director-Public Policy with Verizon Communications. The panel noted the substantial decline in customers using copper-based voice circuits, but in rural areas, copper is not dead, where new networks are not being built for lack of revenue opportunities. Granite, in particular, relies on resale to provide one-stop shopping for business and government end users across the country including rural areas (e.g., post offices in small towns), and a nationwide forbearance from resale obligations does not take into account the varying degrees to which competitive alternatives exist in different areas of the country. In addition, the panel discussed the tension between deregulation and maintaining federal and state universal service funding (USF). The shift in emphasis in USF funding toward broadband means that areas where costs are very high, as in rural Vermont, are seeing less funding, and modest state USFs are insufficient to make up the difference. Greatly enhanced federal infrastructure and operating subsidies may be the only solution instead of the “hidden tax” of USF assessments today. The panel noted the recent battery-backup docket in Vermont and observed the potential that there may no longer be guaranteed phone service in the event of a power outage. The panel closed with a discussion of whether the 1996 Act succeeded in its goal of making the monopoly market competitive, with at least one panelist suggesting that competition did not happen as intended, but we did get competition by facilities-based providers.

The Chapter expresses its gratitude to new College of Communication Dean DiChristina, reception sponsors Granite Telecommunications, Locke Lord LLP, Summit Ridge Group, Verrill Dana LLP, and additional contributors, CTIA, Davis, Malm and Fagelbaum & Heller.

The Law & Technology Institute and the Moot Court Association of the Catholic University of America, Columbus School of Law, together with the Federal Communication Bar Association (FCBA) are pleased to announce that the 26th Annual National Telecommunications and Technology Moot Court Competition will be held on February 28-29, 2020, at the Columbus School of Law in Washington, DC.

The National Telecommunications and Technology Moot Court Competition provides students the opportunity to argue before private and government practitioners in the communications field. Past judges have included former FCC Commissioner Kathleen Abernathy, Chief of Staff to FCC Chairman Ajit Pai, Matthew Berry, First Amendment advocate Robert Corn-Revere, former FCBA President Christopher Wright, and Google Director of Communications Law and former FCC General Counsel Austin Schlick.

Each year, the competition problem, which is written by members of the FCBA, is “ripped from the headlines” of current technology, intellectual property, and telecommunications issues. Past topics have included electioneering and social media, potentially illegal jamming of unmanned aerial vehicles, consumer privacy of personal information, copyright protection of pre-1972 musical performances, and enforcement of broadcast indecency standards.

The registration deadline is Monday, December 9, 2019. Please note that registration is limited, so your prompt response is greatly appreciated. We expect the competition problem to be released by late December.

A Message from the FCBA Foundation Board of Directors

DEAR FCBA MEMBERS,

In November, we focus on reflecting and giving thanks for the good things in our life. We ask that this year, as part of your thanksgiving, you consider sharing some of your good fortune with those in need. The Tuesday after Thanksgiving, December 3, is “Giving Tuesday.” As we enter the charitable season the FCBA Foundation Board of Trustees invites you and your organization (preferably both!) to consider the programs of the Foundation in your end-of-year giving. If you would like to make a donation to the FCBA Foundation, please click here to donate online or click here to download the donation form.

Even a small donation can make a world of difference to local Washington, DC high school students as they try to attend college, or to a law student coming to Washington, DC for an unpaid government internship. We promise there will be plenty left for Black Friday and Cyber Monday deals.

All FCBA members belong to the FCBA Foundation, and many of you donate your time, talents, and financial support to the Foundation’s programs throughout the year. This past fiscal year, we awarded four-year college scholarships to 24 deserving Washington, DC high school graduates; stipends to 25 law school students who interned in public service positions this past summer; and scholarships to five law school students for the 2019-2020 school year. More details regarding the Foundation’s programs can be found in our FY2019 Annual Report.

As in the past, the Foundation will recognize donors throughout the year, and each of our donors will be listed in our Annual Report. To encourage members within organizations to work together to support our programs, the FCBA Foundation will recognize gifts by individuals or groups that choose to combine their contributions (for example, partners and associates in the same firm, employees of the same company, or old friends remembering a colleague) while also crediting the individual donors for their contributions.

Named Scholarships. Each year, we specially recognize those organizations that have funded Foundation scholarships in amounts of $10,000 or more through our Named Scholarships program. Named Scholarship donors are acknowledged at our Annual Meeting luncheon in June and at the Chairman’s Dinner in December, as well as in our Annual Report and newsletter. For FY2019, our Named Scholarship donors included AT&T, Comcast NBCUniversal, Consumer Technology Association (CTA)™, Cox

Enterprises, Inc., CTIA, DISH Network, Fox Corporation, Google, National Association of Broadcasters, NCTA – The Internet & Television Association, Sidley Austin and the Sidley Austin Foundation, T-Mobile US, Inc., The Karen Kincaid Scholarship Fund sponsored by Wiley Rein and Karen’s Friends, The Young Lawyers and Charity Auction, Verizon, and Wilkinson Barker Knauer, LLP.

Honorary Degrees. Organizations donating between $2,000 and $9,999 will be recognized with the following “honorary degrees”:

Masters of Media	$5,000 - $9,999
Bachelors of Broadband	$2,000 - $4,999

In FY2019, Jenner & Block LLP, Latham & Watkins LLP, TracFone Wireless, Twilio, and Wiley Rein TMT Group became “Bachelors of Broadband.”

Gems (Individuals). In addition, individual donations will be recognized at the following levels:

Diamond	$1,000 and above
Emerald	$500 - $999
Pearl	$250 - $499
Ruby	$100 - $249
Sapphire	$99 and below

Our Annual Report recognized more than 100 individual FCBA members who donated to the Foundation this past fiscal year, including 32 who reached the “Diamond” level.

The FCBA Foundation is extremely grateful for every contribution, no matter its size. We thank you for the time and talent that each of you contributes to the FCBA Foundation, and we look forward to hearing from you regarding the Foundation and its programs.

Very truly yours,

Justin Faulb and Tom Power
Co-Chairs, 2019-2020 FCBA

BUSINESS ATTIRE

Pursuant to the Office of Government Ethics regulation on widely-attended gatherings (5 C.F.R. 2635.204(g)(2)), the Chairman's Dinner appears to qualify as a widely attended gathering. The value of an individual ticket to the dinner is $335.00. Most employees of the Federal Communications Commission may be directly invited to attend the dinner as guests of individuals and organizations without the involvement of the FCBA. However, individuals who have signed the Administration's Ethics pledge cannot accept invitations from registered lobbying organizations or registered lobbyists. Some agencies, departments and branches of the Federal Government may apply additional stipulations above the regulations issued by the Office of Government Ethics. While this event has qualified as a widely-attended gathering in previous years, each FCC employee is required to obtain individual ethics clearance based on matters they are working on within the Commission. Employees of the Commerce Department are required to obtain individual ethics clearance through the Department's Office of General Counsel. Invitations to Members of Congress, Congressional Staff, and employees of the Department of State must be issued by the FCBA. Contact the FCBA for additional information. Requests for invitations to be sent from the FCBA must be emailed to kerry@fcba.org by Friday, November 15. Invitees will be placed at the discretion of the FCBA.
