11th Annual FCBA Foundation Golf Tournament Friday, June 15

Registration for the 11th Annual FCBA Foundation - Robert E. Lee Memorial Golf Tournament is now open. After 10 years in Virginia, this year's Tournament will be held at Worthington Manor Golf Club in Urbana, Maryland on Friday, June 15, 2007. Worthington Manor is regularly rated as one of the Mid-Atlantic's premier daily-fee golf clubs, and is a frequent U.S. Open Qualifying site — particularly appropriate since the Tourney takes place on the Friday of the U.S. Open, allowing players to do their best Tiger Woods imitation before coming off the course to see who is (or isn't) making the cut at the real deal.

As in previous years, a scramble (Captain's choice) format will be used and the event is designed to ensure a fun day no matter whether your handicap is three, thirty or somewhere in between. All Eagle Sponsor Foursomes compete for the coveted Eagle Trophy, and many, many other prizes will be awarded thanks to the generosity of our corporate sponsors. Registration includes round, driving range, light breakfast and barbeque lunch — plus a list of acceptable excuses not to return to the office on a pleasant Friday afternoon.

Most importantly, all proceeds go to the FCBA Foundation to support tuition grants for deserving District of Columbia High School graduates. As Stub Estey, one of the original organizers of the tournament would say, "What a great concept: Do good and have fun at the same time." Please see the form on page 26 for registration information.

Save the Date!

The 21st Annual Chairman's Dinner honoring FCC Chairman Kevin J. Martin, will be held December 5, 2007 at the Washington Hilton Hotel. Watch the FCBA News this fall for the dinner reservation form.

PRESIDENT'S Message

DEAR MEMBERS,

What a fantastic Annual Seminar weekend! For approximately 300 people, the weekend was filled with great industry and government panels, family-friendly activities, dinner and dancing, including an impromptu performance by our own Commissioner Adelstein on harmonica with our Saturday night band! The weekend was truly a family environment, with FCBA members bringing spouses, children and in-laws! My thanks to the Committee Co-Chairs – Yaron Dori, Scott Harris, Linda Kinney, and Jane Mago – for their leadership in putting on such a high-quality event.

While my term as President is drawing to a close, we still have some great events ahead of us this FCBA year. On June 27, FTC Chairman Platt Majoras will be the featured speaker at our Annual Luncheon. On June 15, the FCBA Foundation is hosting its 11th Annual Golf Tournament. In addition, the Committees are still planning excellent programs across a wide range of topics. For example, on June 5, the Judicial Practice Committee is hosting a CLE Seminar on The Judicial Year in Review; on June 12, the State and Local Practice Committee is hosting a CLE on Update on State Initiatives; and on June 21, the CLE Committee is hosting a CLE Seminar on Enforcement of U.S. Patent Laws Against International Activities: The Blackberry Case and Beyond. Don't miss these or any of the other committee events coming up this month.

One of my key priorities this year was to increase the accessibility of the FCBA across the communications community. First, we focused on access by the government and academic community. I am happy to report that the FCBA took a number of steps toward that end, including reducing annual dues, implementing an FCBA Annual Seminar scholarship program, and introducing flat-priced reception fees. Second, we focused on exploring ways to bridge the geographic gap between the Chapters and DC. We now offer dial-in access to Chapters for DC brown bags, and to DC members for access to Chapter programs. We also did two trial webinars, and will do a third in conjunction with the June 21 CLE mentioned above. Clearly, this remains an FCBA work in progress, but I am proud of our accomplishments.

As I conclude my final President's column, I will admit that I am breathing a sigh of relief – no more monthly columns to write! In all seriousness, I would like to thank YOU, the FCBA members, for making this a great year for me personally. In particular, I'd like to recognize my fellow Officers, members of the Executive Committee, AND the team of Committee and Chapter co-chairs, who together provided the drive and stamina to ensure a well run Association and content-rich FCBA year. It has been an honor to serve with you all. Of course, all of our efforts were accompanied by the hard work, professionalism, and dedication of the FCBA staff: Stan Zenor, Kerry Loughney, Wendy Parish and Ann Henson.

With much gratitude for the opportunity to serve,

Jennifer A. Warren

ANNUAL LUNCHEON

and the luncheon begins at Noon. For registration information and prices, see page 25.

Deborah Platt Majoras was sworn in as Chairman of the Federal Trade Commission on August 16, 2004.

Majoras' tenure as FTC Chairman has been marked by the Commission's strong efforts to protect and enhance consumer welfare. She has focused on ensuring data security and protecting consumers from emerging frauds, such as identity theft, spyware, and deceptive spam. In May 2006, she was appointed by President George W. Bush to be Co-Chair of his Identity Theft Task Force. Majoras also has focused on increasing the efficiency and transparency of the merger review process, implementing sound antitrust policy regarding intellectual property, increasing efforts to prevent anticompetitive government policies, and strengthening cooperation with consumer and competition agencies around the world. She is a vigorous proponent of empowering consumers by providing information on market risks and the benefits of a competitive marketplace.

From April 2001 through 2003, Majoras served first as Deputy Assistant Attorney General, then as Principal Deputy, of the U.S. Department of Justice's Antitrust Division. During her tenure, she oversaw matters involving numerous industries including software, financial networks, defense, health care, media and entertainment, banking, and industrial equipment. She also served as Chair of the International Competition Network's Merger Working Group and oversaw policy initiatives such as the FTC/DOJ Health Care Hearings, DOJ's Merger Review Process Initiative, and the Mergers Best Practices Project.

Prior to her government service, Majoras was a partner in Jones Day's antitrust section. While at Jones Day, she represented clients on civil and criminal antitrust litigation matters, including mergers and acquisitions, monopolization, price-fixing, distribution issues, and governmental investigations. She also was a member of the firm's technology issues practice.

Majoras is the recipient of the International Association of Privacy Professionals' 2007 Privacy Leadership Award and RSA's 2007 Award for Excellence in the Field of Public Policy. SC Magazine named her one of the Top Five Influential IT Security Thinkers in 2006, and Washingtonian Magazine listed her among the "100 Most Powerful Women in Washington." Majoras is a frequent speaker on competition and consumer protection policy issues to national and international audiences.

Majoras graduated summa cum laude from Westminster College, where she now serves on the Board of Trustees. In 1989, she received her J.D. from the University of Virginia, where she was awarded the Order of the Coif and served as an editor of UVA's Law Review. Majoras is a member of the American Bar Association's Section of Antitrust Law, where she most recently served as Vice Chair of the Section 2 Committee and as a member of the Long-Range Planning Committee. She also served as a non-governmental advisor to the ICN and was named by President Bush to serve on the Antitrust Modernization Commission.

ADJOURN

In MEMORIAM

Richard H. Strodel (1929-2007)

Richard H. Strodel, 77, passed away on May 4, 2007, in Boston, Massachusetts. Dick's communications practice spanned some four decades, during which he principally represented cable systems and private microwave carriers. After retiring, he and his wife Jean relocated from Potomac, Maryland, to Atlantis, Florida, and Cape Cod.

Dick was, in every sense of the phrase, a "class act." He was a bright and effective advocate who was unfailingly courteous, candid, and fair in his dealings on behalf of his clients. He was universally respected and admired.

Dick was very much a "people" person. He enjoyed the company of an immense circle of friends, personally and professionally. Two of his favorite venues for companionship were the golf links and the ski slopes.

Dick was born in Orange, New Jersey, and grew up in Winnetka, Illinois. He graduated cum laude from the Choate School in Wallingford, Connecticut, and in 1951 from Yale University, where he was a member of the St. Elmo Society. He received a law degree from Harvard Law School in 1954.

After law school, Dick served in Army military intelligence, based in Washington DC. He subsequently entered private practice with the law firm of Wheeler and Wheeler, which specialized in railroad and communications law. Founded by former Senator Burton K. Wheeler of Montana, and his son Edward K. Wheeler, the firm represented cable and microwave interests owned by Bob Magness, founder of pioneer MSO TCI.

In 1990, Dick joined the Washington DC, communications law firm of Haley Bader & Potts, and continued his practice there until his retirement in 1997.

Dick was a member of the National Presbyterian Church, where he served on the board of trustees, an elder, and as chairman of Ingleside Presbyterian Home. He also belonged to the Chevy Chase Club, the Metropolitan Club, and the Yale Club of Washington, where he served as president. Dick was long active in the Rotary Club of Washington, hosting young business leaders from around the world.

Dick died May 4 at Beth Israel hospital in Boston as a result of a fall at his home in Cotuit, Massachusetts. He had progressive supranuclear palsy, a condition that caused the fall.

Survivors include his wife of 53 years, Jean Turner Strodel of Cotuit; two children, Kathryn S. Michel and Richard W. Strodel, both of Gaithersburg, Maryland; a sister; and two grandchildren.

Presented by the Continuing Legal Education Committee

On Thursday, June 21, 2007 from 6:00 – 8:15 p.m. the CLE Committee will present a CLE seminar on the enforcement of U.S. patent law to international activities, including a discussion of the intersection of communications law and policy and patent law. For example: How do you get a patent? What standards are used in granting patents and why are these standards important? How are patents enforced? The program will then discuss issues related to the international application of U.S. patent law, including a review of the litigation in NTP v. RIM case (known as the "Blackberry case"). What are the principles that should be considered when determining the extent that U.S. laws should be interpreted to limit activities taken on foreign soil? The program will conclude with a discussion of recent Supreme Court cases that may have significant impact on patent practice going forward, such as the much publicized Microsoft v. ATT case.

The program will be held at Wiley Rein LLP, 1776 K Street, NW, Washington, DC. Moderated by CLE Committee co-chair Joshua Turner, the panel will consist of W. Karl Renner, Fish & Richardson P.C., and Kevin Anderson, Wiley Rein LLP. Please use form on page 25 to register.

2nd Annual Mentoring Luncheon Held on April 18

The Young Lawyers and Diversity Committees held their 2nd annual Mentoring Luncheon on April 18, 2007. The lunch is the brainchild of FCBA immediate Past President Michelle Farquhar and has continued with the support of current President Jennifer Warren. The goal of the mentoring program is to give young lawyers the opportunity to network and discuss career questions. The Mentoring Luncheon serves as a way to facilitate collegiality and friendships between senior and junior level attorneys within the FCBA and communications industry. This luncheon could not be possible, of course, without the generous support from area agencies, firms, and business that lent their senior and mid-level staff to serve as mentors. This year Angela Campbell, Bill Cook, Peter Corea, Renee Crittendon, Kyle Dixon, David Don, Yaron Dori, Michele Farquhar, Jordan Goldstein, Linda Oliver, John Payton, Joy Ragsdale, John Seiver, Peter Shields, and Ryan Wallach all participated as mentors.

The event highlight was a keynote address by John Payton of WilmerHale. Mr. Payton gave an excellent speech on the diversity initiatives he successfully litigated up to the Supreme Court as lead counsel for the University of Michigan. The Supreme Court's decision in Gratz v. Bollinger represented the vindication of a strategy, devised and implemented over more than six years, to build a case to support the educational benefits of diversity. Mr. Payton pointed out that these diversity benefits extend to the workplace, but the full potential of this gain is only achieved through actual interaction between individuals of diverse backgrounds.

The luncheon has been well received by both mentors and mentees two years running and is well on the way to becoming a staple in FCBA annual activities. The Committees are looking forward to another successful luncheon next year.

FCBA Membership Renewal

The dues invoices for the FCBA's 2008 fiscal year (July 1, 2007 – June 30, 2008) are being mailed soon. Please note that the deadline is JULY 31, 2007. Remember to renew your membership as soon as possible, and save the Association the expense of mailing reminder notices. Also included is a committee and chapter sign-up sheet form. A donation to the FCBA Foundation, while renewing your membership, is always appreciated.

Annual Seminar 2007

Nearly 300 FCBA members and guests participated in the 2007 Annual Seminar at Nemacolin Woodlands Resort in Farmington, PA, May 4-6. This year, the FCBA introduced a scholarship program for federal government employees and academics; ten scholarship recipients enjoyed free registration. The combination of scholarship recipients and a large number of panelists from a variety of government agencies diversified attendance at the Seminar this year. We also lucked out with beautiful weather.

The seminar opened again this year with the FCC Bureau Chiefs panel, including Helen Domenici, International Bureau, Monica S. Desai, Media Bureau, Fred Campbell, Wireless Bureau, and Julius Knapp, Office of Engineering and Technology. Jane Mago as “Oprah” moderated the panel. Representatives of these four bureaus and offices laid out their priorities for the coming year, and fielded questions on such topics as spectrum policy, public safety, media ownership and the upcoming World Radio Conference (WRC’07). The Chiefs panel was followed by the “New Voices” panel moderated by Yaron Dori and Diane Cornell, which featured Administration employees, including Meredith Baker, Deputy Assistant Secretary for Communications and Information, National Telecommunications and Information Administration; Sallie McDonald, Director, National Communications System, Department of Homeland Security; Maureen Olhausen, Director, Office of Policy and Planning, Federal Trade Commission; Lydia Parnes, Director, Bureau of Consumer Protection, Federal Trade Commission; and Richard Russell, Associate Director, Office of Science and Technology Policy, Executive Office of the President, (WRC’07 Ambassador-designate). This panel was a big hit among attendees, because many communications-related issues are being handled by other agencies and members of the FCBA do not usually have the opportunity to hear directly from these panelists in an informal setting.

Friday evening, everyone enjoyed a family style dinner at the Ski Lodge. Tables were setup outside on the deck with a spectacular view overlooking rolling hills of rural Pennsylvania. The weather was perfect for an evening of mini golf on a beautifully landscaped course. Members and guests also enjoyed the always-popular bingo party sponsored by AT&T.

The Saturday session opened with a morning panel featuring FCC legal advisors, Barry Ohlson, Senior Advisor to Commissioner Adelstein, John Hunter, Senior Advisor to Commissioner McDowell, and Aaron Goldberger, Senior Advisor to Commissioner Tate. Moderated by Yaron Dori and Linda Kinney, the panelists answered questions on a number of hot topics, including the upcoming 700 MHz auction, CPNI and the challenge of collecting data to reflect actual broadband deployment in the US. The legal advisor panel was followed by “Going Mobile,” moderated by Carolyn Brandon, which included panelists Dean Brenner, Vice President, Federal Governmental Affairs, Qualcomm; Troy Dow, Vice President, Government Affairs, The Walt Disney Company, David B. Jeppsen, Vice President, NTT DoCom; and Shane Tews, Senior Washington Representative, VeriSign. Attendees also enjoyed hearing about industry trends from financial analysts George Reed-Dellinger, Partner and Senior TeleMedia Analyst, Washington Analysis; Blair Levin, Managing Director, Stifel Nicolaus; and Anna-Maria Kovacs, President, Regulatory Source Associates. Heather Gold moderated the lively discussion. The analysts looked into their crystal balls and commented on a number of proceedings, including the proposed XM-Sirius merger and Universal Service reform.

Following that session, FCBA President Jennifer Warren had a one-on-one discussion with Commissioner Adelstein. Commissioner Adelstein discussed his concerns about media responsibility and particularly his concerns about payola flowing from the Spitzer investigation and the FCC's recent consent decree with several large radio companies.

Saturday afternoon, competitive participants played in the golf or tennis tournaments, while others enjoyed a tour of Falling Water, the architectural masterpiece designed by Frank Lloyd Wright in 1935. Wright anchored the house to a rock and cantilevered it over a rushing mountain stream (which unfortunately modern zoning laws no longer permit...) The Asian-inspired spa was also a favorite destination.

Winners in the golf tournament, sponsored by Verizon, were: First Place (Gross) Jim Bugel, Mike Gallagher, David Jeppsen, and Julius Knapp; First Place (Net) Meredith Baker, David Don, and Shane Tews; Women's Closest to the Pin: Meredith Baker and Tracy Taylor; Women's Longest Drive: Laura Carter; Men's Closest to the Pin: Jim Taylor; and Men's Longest Drive: Joseph Cramer.

Winners in the tennis tournament, sponsored by Cingular, were Helen Domenici, Nellie Liang, Henry Rivera, and Tony Wilhelm. Anna-Maria Kovacs won two nights lodging at the Resort.

The Annual Seminar Raffle was a huge success. Young Lawyers sold a record number of tickets, raising $5,000 dollars for the FCBA Foundation Robert E. Lee Scholarship and Internship Fund that gives D.C. high school graduates the opportunity to attend college. At the Saturday night dinner, Joe DiScipio, Chairman of the FCBA Foundation once again thanked LG Electronics and Ibiquty for their generous donation of prizes. Nancy Melandry of Davis Wright Tremaine was the lucky raffle winner of the 42" plasma TV donated by LG Electronics and Ben Ivins of the NAB won the HD Radio Tabletop Receiver donated by Ibiquty.

Saturday evening, members and guests enjoyed the seminar banquet and the highlight of the evening – a live band. Commissioner Adelstein's guest appearance on the harmonica was a big hit and capped off an evening of dancing and festivity.

Special thanks to the Annual Seminar Co-Chairs Yaron Dori, Jane Mago, Scott Harris and Linda Kinney for their leadership in planning the seminar program and to participating Annual Seminar Committee members for their assistance. Scott Harris did a tremendous job finding a record number of sponsors for the event.

Foundation Seeks Mentors for Scholarship Recipients

The Foundation is looking for FCBA members interested in serving as a mentor to one of the recipients of a 2007 FCBA Foundation college scholarship. As a mentor, you would be asked to initiate a few communications throughout the year with your mentee as they embark upon and pursue their college careers. The scholarship recipients, all of whom come from Washington, D.C. high schools, will be entering college in the fall of 2007. In addition to the Foundation's scholarship, the mentoring program provides a less tangible way the Foundation is able to support these students. Few if any of the scholarship recipients have any family members who have ever attended college who can help them adjust to the new environment and expectations that college presents to a student. It takes little time, but can be very rewarding as you watch your mentee progress through their college career. If you are interested in serving as a mentor, or have any questions regarding the mentoring program, please contact Lee Petro at petro@fhhlaw.com.

Many of us are stretched for time these days, but why not consider spending a few hours on a Sunday to help the FCBA Foundation's partner charities? McKenna's Wagon Seeking Volunteers for June 24

McKenna's Wagon is a mobile soup and sandwich wagon that goes "on location" to deliver food to the needy. For those who have volunteered, it has been a wonderful experience and a great way to help the needy in the D.C. community. This is an especially good experience for the teens and pre-teens among us who do not have a full appreciation of the many privileges they enjoy. Community service credits are also available.

The Wagon is a white van that is loaded up with sandwiches, snacks and soup. We meet at Martha's Table at 4:45 pm in comfortable clothes and shoes. Martha's Table is located in a yellow
