PRESIDENT'S Message

DEAR FCBA MEMBERS,

I've always had mixed feelings about February, but despite its shortcomings (even with an extra day this leap year), it has some redeeming qualities. There's Valentine's Day (although not everyone is a fan), and it's Black History Month, a great opportunity to recognize and applaud Black excellence and achievement. February also commemorates American Heart Month (of course), National Cancer Prevention Month, and Humpback Whale Awareness Month, to name a few. And Random Act of Kindness Day is February 17. So Happy February, and I hope the month brings you multiple reasons to celebrate, or practice random kindness, or both.

A shout out, and my sincere thanks, to our Southern California Chapter, especially Co-Chair Sanford Williams who arranged a dinner for FCBA members and UCLA law students on their home turf and allowed me to take over his law class for an hour. President-Elect Kathy Kirby and I had a great time getting to know more FCBA members outside of the DC bubble. Next up for me later this month is a visit to the Texas Chapter, and I look forward to hearing from them how the DC Voluntary Bar of the Year can better serve our chapters around the country.

February is also a busy month for FCBA events. There's the Fifth Annual Women's Summit, with Session I on February 13th at the DC offices of Google; we are so fortunate to be hosting three DC Area law school Deans who will share their insights on many topics, including the importance of partnerships with the legal industry. I will be moderating this esteemed panel, so please join us for this important discussion, to be followed by a networking reception. Session II kicks off Women's History Month on March 6th at the AT&T Forum with "Investing in Innovative and Inclusive Leaders," a half-day of crucial conversations featuring FCC Chairwoman Jessica Rosenworcel in a fireside chat with yours truly. Thank you to our sponsors who are making the Summit possible, and I hope to see you at both events (all are welcomed)!

Other February programming includes two CLE programs on what's next for BEAD broadband funding and the 2023 World Radiocommunication Conference, plus Lunch and Learns with the Engineering & Technical and Cybersecurity Committees. The Northern California Chapter is hosting a Careers panel, perfect for students and current lawyers curious about what's hot in TMT careers. Be sure to check out our events page for details on all on our great upcoming events.

Finally, in case you had fallen off the RandomCoffee wagon like I had for a couple of busy months, I hope this inspires you to jump back on. I was paired with a colleague I first met while working at the FCC many years ago, Suzanne Tetreault. We immediately scheduled coffee within a few days and had a great time catching up. What a treat it was to reconnect with an old friend, and long-time FCBA member.

Thanks for reading, and I'll see you around the bar!

Agenda

12:00 – 12:10 p.m.

INTRODUCTION AND WELCOMING REMARKS

12:10 – 1:05 p.m.

SCOTUS TAKES UP CONTENT MODERATION

(Speakers to be announced)

The U.S. Supreme Court is scheduled to hear oral argument on February 26, 2024 in NetChoice, et al. v. Paxton and Moody v. NetChoice, et al., cases testing the constitutionality of laws enacted in Florida and Texas that prescribe certain content moderation practices on online platforms and require those platforms to provide individualized explanations to users affected by their content moderation actions. The Court is faced with a circuit split on this question, as the Eleventh Circuit found that provisions in the Florida law violate platforms' First Amendment rights and the Fifth Circuit upheld the Texas law and rejected the Eleventh Circuit's constitutional analysis. These cases have drawn scores of amicus briefs and the Court's decision is expected to shape how the First Amendment is applied in the digital age. Our panel of experts will discuss the issues from both sides, including whether large social media companies should be considered common carriers, and will read the tea leaves left by the Justices' questions at oral argument. The panel also will address the possible implications of the Court's decision.

1:05 – 2:00 p.m.

BIG TECH DEALS WITH THE DIGITAL MARKETS ACT

(Speakers to be announced)

In the second panel, we will shift to a discussion of the European Union's Digital Markets Act, under which six companies (Alphabet, Amazon, Apple, ByteDance, Meta, and Microsoft) have been designated as gatekeepers with durable market positions in digital sectors. As the compliance date of March 6, 2024 for them nears, companies are beginning to release their plans for compliance. Panelists will cover how gatekeepers have already responded, compliance burdens, future enforcement, and potential implications for the U.S. market.

Wednesday, March 13, 12:00 – 3:15 p.m. ET 18th Annual FCBA/ ABA Privacy and Data Security Symposium "Emerging Privacy and Security Approaches in Action"

The FCBA Privacy and Data Security Committee and the American Bar Association's Forum on Communications Law will co-sponsor a CLE on Wednesday, March 13 from 12:00 – 3:15 p.m. ET entitled the 18th Annual FCBA/ABA Privacy and Data Security Symposium "Emerging Privacy and Security Approaches in Action." This program will be held virtually via the Zoom platform.

A flurry of new state laws—including 13 comprehensive privacy laws and counting—has marked the beginning of another pivotal phase for the privacy world. Meanwhile, agencies at both federal and state levels have renewed their focus on high-risk processing activities, consumer choice, and protection of sensitive data. This evolving regulatory landscape—combined with growing opportunities in Artificial Intelligence and other digital technologies—urge companies to re-examine how they should approach privacy and security compliance in 2024 and beyond.

This compliance-driven event will highlight industry experience in coping with these challenges and explore strategies for staying ahead of the latest developments.

The FCBA will apply for 3.0 hours of MCLE credit from the VA Bar. This program has not yet been approved.

FCBA no longer offers CA MCLE credit to attendees. If you wish to obtain CA credit, you must apply for it on your own. FCBA will, however, provide a generic certificate of attendance that may be used. Please click here for more information on the CA Bar Standards for MCLE Activity Approval and Requirements.

PRIVACY AND DATA SECURITY SYMPOSIUM

Moderator:

Qiusi Y. Newcom, Associate, Faegre
Drinker Biddle & Reath LLP

SESSION I: DATA PRIVACY IMPACT ASSESSMENTS – LEGAL DEVELOPMENTS AND PRACTICAL TIPS

Companies are well-acquainted with data privacy impact assessments (DPIAs), which have long been features of mature privacy programs. But in this developing legal and regulatory landscape, companies are now facing DPIA requirements for certain types of processing. Which laws impose DPIA obligations and under what circumstances? How do the various DPIA requirements compare to each other? How should companies leverage existing DPIA processes to meet compliance requirements? Join this panel to explore developments in privacy and AI legal frameworks, and practical tips on how to keep up.

SESSION II: CONSUMER CHOICE UNDER EMERGING PRIVACY LAWS

New privacy laws and regulations approach consumer choice in a variety of ways. From opt-in consent requirements to opt-out rights and mechanisms, companies face an array of consumer choice requirements depending on the data at issue and the purposes of processing. Join this panel to learn about the patchwork of obligations under both federal and state law, and to discuss the latest developments in practical implementation of consumer choice requirements, including developments related to universal opt-out mechanisms under new state laws and regs.

SESSION III: NAVIGATING THE PATCHWORK OF CYBER AND BREACH NOTIFICATION REQUIREMENTS

In an era of increasing cyber threats, companies must stay informed of the evolving legal landscape of cyber and data breach requirements. While required windows of time within which to provide notifications are becoming shorter, the collection of government regulators and stakeholders to which notifications must be submitted continue to grow ever larger. Just in the past year, the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC), Federal Communications Commission (FCC), the Federal Trade Commission (FTC), and the Cybersecurity Infrastructure Security Agency (CISA) all made significant strides in creating new breach notification rules for their respective covered entities, each with different criteria for when notifications must be made as well as different timetables for such notifications. In this panel, industry experts will dissect the complexities of navigating this increasingly intricate patchwork. From understanding the aforementioned regulatory updates, and state-specific breach notification laws, to exploring the art of timely and effective breach notifications, our panelists will provide practical insights and strategies to help legal professionals safeguard their clients' interests.

Tuesday, April 2, 12:30 – 2:30 p.m. ET Enforcement 101: The FCC's Administrative Hearing Process

The FCBA Enforcement Committee will sponsor a CLE on Tuesday, April 2 from 12:30 – 2:30 p.m. ET entitled Enforcement 101: The FCC's Administrative Hearing Process. This program will be held virtually via the Zoom platform.

Attendees will learn about the process directly from the FCC's Administrative Law Judge, and will hear from appellate practitioners on the potential impact on the FCC from the Supreme Court case SEC v. Jarkesy —a case regarding the legality of administrative enforcement proceedings.

Speakers: Jane Hinckley Halprin, Administrative Law Judge, FCC; Jason E. Neal, Partner, HWG LLP; Thomas M. Johnson, Jr., Partner, Wiley; Additional Speakers TBD

The Federal Communications Law Journal

The Federal Communications Law Journal has long been an important source of legal scholarship on communications issues, and the FCBA is proud to offer the journal as a benefit to our members.

FCBA members may now decide how they would like to receive the journal. The FCLJ itself will continue to be published in hard copy, however, rather than receiving hard copies as a default, we'll be distributing electronic links to the content.

For those of you who would like to receive the FCLJ electronically, you don't have to do anything. We will email you a link when a new issue is published. You may also visit <http://www.fclj.org/volumes/> to view archived volumes.

For those of you who would like to receive the FCLJ in hard copy format, you should sign up for this option by following the instructions below. You must log in to your membership account and select the FCLJ subscription. Note that the hard copy journal is free, but it must be ordered through our website.

- To log in to your account, click here or go to www.fcba.org and click the Log In button.
- Click on the link to the “Online Store” on the left side of the page.
- Click on the link to the “Federal Communications Law Journal Annual Subscription”. You may also type the word Journal into the Search Bar, if needed.
- Click on “Add to Cart”.
- Click on “Check Out”.
- Click on “Purchase Now”, and you're done!

Note that we will also send out an email reminder to members about the opt-in process before each issue is published.

If you have any questions, please send an email to Wendy Parish (wendy@fcba.org).

Space and Global Communications Committee Lunch and Learn on January 23

The Space and Global Communications Committee held its first event of the new year, welcoming the Space Bureau leadership to discuss their initiatives and the Federal Communications Commission's Space Innovation agenda with over one hundred in-person and virtual attendees. Committee co-chairs Jennifer Manner and Gerald Adams moderated and introduced discussions on the Space Bureau's accomplishments during its inaugural year and its priorities for 2024.

Chief of the Space Bureau, Julie Kearney, emphasized a year of record development, including five major rulemakings on launch and satellite operations, processing the highest number of space and earth station applications ever recorded, and issuing the first orbital debris enforcement action. Panelists emphasized continued streamlining of applications and the newly adopted Transparency Initiative to further enhance industry awareness and guidance on its authorization procedures. Panelists also identified multiple rulemakings for 2024, including the recently adopted orbital debris and 70/80/90 GHz Orders; the just released in-space servicing, assembly and manufacturing draft order; and forthcoming actions in the 17 GHz band, spectrum sharing between NGSO FSS systems, and next-steps to its streamlining initiative.

Attendees raised questions around streamlining processing of applications, with particular emphasis on NTIA coordination requirements and requests for experimental licenses or special temporary authority, and broader collaboration with NTIA as the agencies implement the National Spectrum Strategy and relevant WRC items. Panelists reiterated the importance of inter-agency coordination and a clear vision for supporting the space industry.

Wireline Committee Hosts a Successful Lunch and Learn on January 30

During this FCBA Wireline Committee Lunch and Learn, the legal advisors to the Chairwoman and the Commissioners shared, among other things, great insights on the FCC's handling of items before it with a full slate of Commissioners, along with how to have effective ex parte meetings and presentations with their offices. Elizabeth Cuttner (OCH), Rashann Duvall (OCH), Lauren Garry (Commissioner Carr), Justin Faulb (Commissioner Starks), Marco Peraza (Commissioner Simington), and via video was Hayley Steffen (Commissioner Gomez) participated.

FCBA Unplugged

FCBA UNPLUGGED is a podcast series for and about our beloved FCBA community. FCBA Unplugged features a series of fun, informal conversations between host Kelly Donohue, a Public Policy Manager at Facebook and co-chair of the FCBA's Membership and Marketing Committee, and you, our FCBA members! While it's certainly no proxy for in-person events, it's a fun opportunity to collectively check in with our FCBA friends and family while we are all working from home in our pajama bottoms, and maybe discover a few hidden talents along the way.

HOW CAN I LISTEN AND SUPPORT THE SHOW? We're available on Spotify, Apple Podcasts, on the FCBA website - <https://www.fcba.org/products-services/podcast>, and at <https://www.buzzsprout.com/1458427>. Please tune in, leave a review, and tell the world about the show on Facebook, Instagram, LinkedIn, and Twitter!

The FCLJ is Looking for Articles

The Federal Communications Law Journal (FCLJ), the official academic journal of the FCBA, is hosted by The George Washington University Law School. It has long been an important source of legal scholarship on communications issues, and the FCBA is proud to offer the journal as a benefit to our members.

The Federal Communications Law Journal (FCLJ) editorial board at The George Washington University Law School is seeking article submissions for potential publication in the upcoming issues of the FCLJ. Interested members may submit articles to the Senior Articles Editor, Sarah Lambert (fcljarticles@law.gwu.edu). Articles may also be submitted through ExpressO or Scholastica. For general inquiries about the FCLJ, please contact the Editor-in-Chief, Catherine Ryan (fclj@law.gwu.edu).

The FCBA is gearing up for its 2024 scholarship and stipend programs, which will award hundreds of thousands of dollars to outstanding high school and law school students, thanks to the generous contributions of FCBA members, industry sponsors, and others. Below are the details of the programs, including information on applications.

If you have any questions about these programs, please contact Janeen Wynn at janeen@fcba.org.

FCBA Foundation 2024 College Scholarship Program

The FCBA Foundation College Scholarship Program provides financial assistance and laptop computers to DC public high school students to assist them in attending college. For over 28 years, the Foundation has helped almost 390 local high school students attend college with scholarship awards ranging from several thousand dollars up to $28,000, payable over four years.

The Foundation committed nearly $276,000 to its 2023 scholarship class via scholarships between $8,000 and $20,000 to graduating seniors selected because of their academic achievements and service to school and community.

The Foundation's web-based application lets interested high school seniors, who are matriculating to college next fall, apply for a scholarship online. The College Scholarship application is available at <https://webportalapp.com/sp/fcbacollegescholarship2024>.

The deadline for submission of applications is Thursday, February 29, 2024. The Foundation plans to conduct interviews of promising applicants in early April 2024. We will notify successful applicants regarding their scholarship awards before May 2024.

FCBA Foundation 2024 Law School Summer Stipend Program

The FCBA Foundation will award stipends to law students employed as unpaid summer interns through its Law School Summer Stipend Program. The program provides stipends to students from around the country who want to dedicate their time and talent over the summer to government service in areas that relate to telecommunications, media, and technology (TMT) law, including broadcasting, cable, information technology, television, telephony, satellite, and wireless. It also can include work at government/public sector entities addressing other communications-related areas, including internet law and policy, privacy, cybersecurity, copyright, emerging technologies, and related policy and legal issues.

The Law School Summer Stipend Program awards stipends of up to $7,000 and last year provided support to 10 outstanding law students. The Foundation considers funding from other sources in making award decisions and generally will adjust its stipend awards based on total funding received.

The application for the stipend will be available online from Thursday, February

1, until Wednesday, March 6, 2024. The application and deadlines can be accessed at: <https://webportalapp.com/sp/login/fcbastipend2024>.

FCBA Foundation 2024 Law School Scholarship Program

The FCBA Foundation Law School Scholarship Program provides financial assistance to rising second- or third-year students currently enrolled in accredited law schools in the United States who have a demonstrated interest in pursuing a career in TMT law. In 2023, the Foundation awarded $4,000 scholarships to five outstanding law students. The scholarships are payable to the applicable law school in one lump sum to help the student with tuition or other education-related expenses.

The application for the scholarship is now available and can be accessed at <https://webportalapp.com/sp/login/fcbalawsscholarship2024>. The deadline for submission of applications is Wednesday, March 6, 2024. The Foundation plans to notify successful applicants regarding their scholarship awards by mid-May.

FCBA Foundation Scholarship and Internship Programs – Call for Volunteers!

FCBA members, we need your help! The FCBA Foundation is seeking volunteers to review applications for all three of its programs, including the College Scholarship, Law School Scholarship, and Law School Summer Internship Stipend.

Volunteers will review students' written applications and/or conduct interviews with the most promising applicants as part of the selection process. Your help is more important than ever -- we expect the number of scholarship applications to be higher than last year's record.

Please see below for additional information on each program and how to volunteer.

COLLEGE SCHOLARSHIP PROGRAM

For over 28 years, the FCBA Foundation has provided scholarships to hundreds of DC high school and charter school graduates seeking to attend college. Last year, we awarded local students nearly $276,000 in scholarships and laptops. Scholarships will be awarded to graduating high school seniors who demonstrate through their applications and personal interviews that their academic achievements, service to school and community, and commitment to learning show their potential to succeed in college and make positive contributions to their communities.

The first week of March we will send to each volunteer reviewer a group of applications, plus detailed reviewing and grading instructions. Reviews will be due by Monday, March 18. We then will invite the most promising candidates back for personal interviews to be held in early April. Volunteers will be contacted with interview dates once they are confirmed.

**If you would like to volunteer, please email Rachel Wolkowitz at rwolkowitz@wbklaw.com by Friday, February 23, 2024. Please indicate whether you are interested in reviewing written applications, participating in interviews of the candidates, or both!

LAW SCHOOL SCHOLARSHIP AND SUMMER INTERNSHIP STIPEND PROGRAMS

The Law School Scholarship Program provides financial assistance to rising second- or third-year students currently enrolled in accredited law schools in the United States who have a demonstrated interest in pursuing a career in TMT law.

The Law School Summer Internship Stipend Program provides stipends to students from around the country who want to dedicate their time and talent over the summer to government service in areas that relate to TMT law.

**If you would like to review applications, please email Rachel Wolkowitz at rwolkowitz@wbklaw.com by Friday, February 23, 2024.

Sanford Williams

By: Laura Phillips

I was fortunate to be able to take some time this month to visit virtually with Sanford Williams. Sanford has worked at the Federal Communications Commission in a variety of offices and capacities since 1999 so it is fair to say he has done and seen a lot. He is currently part of the office of FCC Chairwoman Jessica Rosenworcel, starting there initially as a Special Advisor. However, recently he was named Deputy Chief of Staff for the FCC. Sanford is also a Professor at UCLA Law School and a very proud and committed family guy. It was delightful to get some time with him to chat.

Q: What attracted you to the field of communications?

A: Fun fact - I started undergraduate college when I was 15, so when I graduated with an Engineering Degree from Cornell University, I knew I was not ready to start working. Instead, I continued at Cornell to get an MBA. At that point I did work for several years in New York City. But as time went on, I determined that if I wanted to make a positive difference in the world, I could take one of two paths, either to become a lawyer or a teacher. I think you can guess which path I chose - I earned a Law School Degree from UVA. I then started working for a law firm in Atlanta.

My wife at that time was a physician in training, and we had young children when she was graduating medical school and starting a residency at Johns Hopkins in Baltimore. As a result, staying in Georgia was not going to work for us. It was at that point that the Washington region came into my sights and after weighing the options, I am glad to say that the FCC offered a great platform for me to combine what I had learned in pursuing all my degrees. Communications law and policy was a perfect fit then for me and it continues to offer new challenges and insights all these years later.

Q: Tell us about the various places you've worked through the years.

A: Primarily, I have worked at the FCC for almost 25 years. I started out in the Wireline Competition Bureau in the Policy Division and our current Chairwoman joined the Policy Division around the same time I did, so we have known one another as colleagues for quite a long time. Over the years I have worked on mergers, procurements, numbering issues and spectrum matters among other things. As Special Advisor in the Chairwoman's office I was deeply engaged in the FCC's Task Force on Digital Discrimination.

In terms of other work I've undertaken, I was a three time elected school board official in Manassas, Virginia for about 11 years, until I moved to Southern California about two and a half years ago. More recently I've become a professor at UCLA Law School where I teach one course a semester either on Telecommunications Regulation or on Administrative Law with an emphasis on Communications. I also coached high school girls basketball for 2 years during my time at the FCC.

Q: Have things unfolded in your career more or less the way you planned?

A: Not at all. I never anticipated being at the FCC for so long and getting to work on so many meaningful issues, running for public office or teaching at a law school. But each of these experiences has influenced who I am and here we are.

Q: What's the most interesting or challenging thing that you've done in your current position?

A: As a professor, the most interesting and challenging thing I have done is finding a way to relate to students. Telling them what I do day-to-day is easy. Conveying it in a manner that is insightful, useful, understandable, and relatable, while showing compassion for them and their experience, has been interesting, challenging, exhilarating and unbelievably rewarding. I've also enjoyed having various colleagues and industry friends participate in my teaching, offering their own insights and perspectives to my students; that has been really interesting and enriching.

Q: Is or was there something interesting or someone who surprised or impressed you during your career and why?

A: There have been tons of interesting things and lots of impressive people I have interacted with at the FCC and at UCLA. I have known the Chairwoman for over 20 years and she has been amazing. And because you gave me limited space, I will shout out a few more folks, my college roommate at Cornell and FCC colleague for over 20 years, Rodney McDonald, he is the epitome of an excellent government worker; Ann Berkowitz, whom I worked with for years on numbering issues and touched me by mentioning our friendship in a previous newsletter column; and my mentees whom I talk to the most, Kiara Ortiz, Kimia Nikseresht, Jaime McCo, Roxanna Barboza, and Celia Lewis, all phenomenal people and impressive TMT attorneys. I have literally dozens of other mentees and colleagues (including current FCBA President Diane Holland, Narda Jones, D'wana Terry, Mindy Ginsburg, Mark Stephens, Mikelles Morra, Dana Bradford, Marlene Dortch, Alex Johns, Gina Perini, Darlene Biddy, Brenda Villanueva, Michelle Sclater, Ann Stevers, Marilyn Jones, Jodie May, Erica Myers, Romanda Williams, Vickie Robinson) I could mention, so I apologize for the many people I left out.

Q: What do you enjoy reading?

A: Anything about sports, romantic comedies, various fiction books, biographies, and books dealing with the law, equity and justice. So, lots of stuff. 😊

Get to Know an FCBA MEMBER

SANFORD WILLIAMS

Q: Is there something (a hobby or other tidbit) people don't know about you that you are willing to share?

A: I will give you a couple. I have 3 grandchildren (ages 3, 1, and almost 1) which is still surreal to me but of course in an incredibly good way. And I love watching sports, including college sports, especially all things UVA, Cornell and UCLA Women's basketball (shoutout to Coach Cori Close who has become a good friend).

Q: Can you share your perspective on the pitfalls to avoid or other career advice for those who are just getting started in the communications field?

A: Don't ever think you know everything. This is a dynamic field, so it is incredibly important that you have the attitude of being a lifelong learner. Also, I find that you can learn so much from others by observing them in all kinds of professional situations so I would counsel people starting out to seek out mentors and watch how they handle all kinds of situations. Finally, everyone has value and should be treated with respect. Listen more than you talk. Be authentic.

Q: How has your life changed as a result of COVID-19 and what are you looking forward to doing next?

A: My life changed unbelievably because of the pandemic. It led my wife Anastasia, and me to move to Southern California, and resulted in me teaching at UCLA Law School, which has been so enriching and rewarding that I would almost do it for free (note I said almost 😊). Also, to combat any feelings of being disconnected in the early days of the shutdown, I started a daily quote list that I shared with FCC colleagues. I have continued it and it now has over 300 people on it (inside and outside of the Commission). It is sometimes funny and other times quite moving to see the reactions to some of the quotes I have picked. For example, one quote on mental health still resonates with me and with some of my faithful audience: "you are not required to set yourself on fire to keep others warm."

While it has always been a part of who I am, the COVID experience highlighted again my drive to have a discernibly positive impact on everyone I work with, on all my students, and my friends and family. And hopefully make a positive difference in the lives of the citizens we serve through our work at the FCC.

Q: How long have you been an FCBA member, and what to you is the value of FCBA membership?

A: I am not sure. I know that I participated when I started at the FCC, and I took some time off as my three kids (now 34, 32 and 24 years old – hey Kiara, Sanford and Nia) grew up and all graduated from UVA. Then I hopped back in when I had more time. The FCBA has been immeasurably valuable to me for networking, learning more about TMT, connecting with folks in our industry on a personal level and making lifelong friendships. While there is a range of great programming and other initiatives, I am especially appreciative of the Diversity Pipeline Program. Finally, I have to add that I truly appreciate my friend, Kerry Loughney, the executive director of the FCBA, who does so much behind the scenes to make the FCBA Tech Bar the best Bar.

2.24.1

Counsel, Franchising/Regulatory Policy - Altice USA - Long Island City, New York, NY or Washington D.C. - The Counsel, Franchising/Regulatory Policy is responsible for legal/regulatory policy support on local and state facilities and service authorizations. The portfolio includes management of all rights of way authorizations (whether held at the local or state level), including cable franchises covering more than 1300 communities, telecom/broadband authorizations, and local permitting requirements across the Company's footprint. The position will report to the Senior Vice President, Government Affairs & Policy.

The position will be based either at corporate headquarters in Long Island City, NY, or in Altice's Washington, DC offices, with substantial time in the corporate headquarters required.

Responsibilities

- Counsel will manage and provide legal/regulatory support to secure and maintain on favorable terms the authorizations needed from local and state franchising authorities for Altice to deploy plant and equipment and offer a broad range of services over that equipment.
- This role will manage franchise fee audits and other compliance matters related to cable franchises and other authorizations from state and local governments.
- The Counsel will assist in advising on business projects and opportunities that intersect with franchisors and other state/local government agencies, and handle other matters as directed.
- The role will also be required to support/assist Altice's federal and state government affairs staff on franchising/policy issues, including potential federal legislative/regulatory changes to the franchising regime, implications of the evolution of video product offerings, and facilities authorizations other than those connected to cable service offerings.

Qualifications

- Juris Doctor and admission to at least one state bar.
- At least 5 years' experience in law firms, government or corporate positions, with knowledge of telecommunications business, laws and regulation and state/municipal regulatory processes preferred.

- Excellent written and verbal communication skills, with the ability to present effectively to a wide range of audiences.
- Quick learner, with the ability to manage multiple projects simultaneously, for several internal clients.
- Ability to work independently, with precise attention to detail, including management of franchise expirations, and filings and related actions to timely preserve the Company's authorizations to occupy the public rights of way and offer services over plant and equipment.
- Highly collaborative, including ability to work effectively with colleagues that are not in a direct reporting relationship.
- Flexibility and creativity in problem solving, particularly in negotiations with government officials and agencies.
- Working knowledge of state regulatory, legislative, and municipal processes.

Deputy Division Chief, Telecommunications and Analysis Division, Office of International Affairs, Federal Communications Commission (GS-15)

- The FCC's Office of International Affairs, Telecommunications and Analysis Division seeks a qualified attorney to fill a position for Deputy Division Chief.

As Deputy Division Chief, the incumbent participates and shares fully with the Division Chief the planning, directing, and coordinating of all phases of the work of the Division, with a concentration on matters relating to international section 214 authorizations, submarine cable landing licenses, foreign ownership issues, and rulemaking proceedings. The incumbent's responsibilities include managing, conducting, and participating in rulemaking proceedings to develop international telecommunications policy; addressing petitions for reconsideration; processing and assessing applications and requests for authorizations and licenses under the applicable Commission rules; reporting on international telecommunications markets and relevant international issues; and representing the Commission or leading delegations at international telecommunications conferences and meetings.

The incumbent serves as a high-level legal and policy advisor to the OIA Chief on international telecommunications-related matters for which the Division has responsibility. The incumbent participates in continuing discussions with OIA management concerning policy objectives and initiatives, legal issues, and the implementation of policy. The incumbent provides definitive interpretations of rules and regulations, comments on proposed legislation, and initiates rulemaking activities appropriate to functions.

The incumbent assists the Division Chief in all aspects of management activities, such as developing long-range plans for accomplishment of Division functions. Additionally, the incumbent determines scope and extent of programs to be undertaken within overall mission and proportion of total resources provided to be devoted to individual program activities, and advises the Division Chief on development of policies and priorities of the Division and disseminates the same to subordinates. The incumbent also keeps apprised on matters of concern to OIA and the Commission and takes action to reorder priorities or to expedite work process to meet critical needs. The incumbent develops resource requirements, justifications, and coordinates resources from other Bureaus and Offices, such as the Office of Economics and Analytics (OEA). Further, the incumbent continuously evaluates progress of operations through discussions with subordinates and review of reports and documents and adjusts resources to improve effectiveness of operations. The incumbent develops methods for increasing efficiency and reducing regulatory delay and burden on industry and public.

The incumbent assists the Division Chief in direction of work operations. The incumbent directs, through subordinate managers, as well as team leaders/issue group leaders, the work of the Division. The incumbent defines areas of responsibility, establishes Division priorities, and disseminates to subordinates. Further, the incumbent reviews work and makes definitive decisions on legal and highly sensitive matters under delegated authority. The incumbent also reviews and makes recommendations to the Division and/or OIA Chief on those matters requiring decision by the OIA Chief and/or Commission.

Senior Director, Public Policy & Government Affairs – Somos is an innovative technology company that ensures that phone calls and text messages can be trusted. Consumers don't want spammers and fraudsters to reach them through their devices, and businesses don't want their legitimate phone calls ignored. The solution? Developing stronger trusted digital identities. And, that's where you come in! We are looking for a senior leader who shares our mission and has the drive and entrepreneurship to make connections safer for everyone. We believe that innovation can come from anyone who sees a need and can pose a solution. By bringing in a team of diverse talents, experiences, and perspectives, at Somos, you will be empowered to contribute in a meaningful way for the greater good of digital identities.

The Senior Director of Public Policy and Government Affairs is responsible for providing leadership, oversight, coordination and execution of industry research, standards, regulations, and activities. This leader will work closely with engineering, business development, number administration services, and customer engagement, to define, develop and implement solutions and strategies to engage and further deepen the relationships between Somos, regulators, and the industry. The successful candidate will provide a bridge between the global, Federal, and state and industry bodies. The Senior Director of Public Policy and Government Affairs plays a key role developing strategic alliances to drive increased adoption and extensibility of Somos' administrative services and products. This role must ensure that all activities are aligned with the mission and vision of Somos, and in compliance with regulatory oversight.

Somos is a place where ideas matter. Where talent and thoughtfulness are recognized and rewarded. Where people contribute to something bigger than themselves. In a world driven by intense competition, our culture of innovation and inclusivity sets the stage for truly transformative work. If you're a passionate and ambitious person seeking to grow as an individual, impact millions of people and transform an industry — we want you on our side.

2.24.6

Trial Attorney(s) – The Federal Communications Commission is looking to hire up to two attorneys in the Litigation Division of the agency's Office of General Counsel. The FCC has independent litigating authority to defend its orders in the federal appellate courts; the Litigation Division has a highly skilled and collegial group of appellate specialists who carry out that work. The Division's docket includes a wide range of complex and interesting matters, involving all aspects of communications law and often featuring cutting-edge questions of constitutional or administrative law. The available positions offer highly motivated candidates a rewarding opportunity for government service involving challenging legal work in a flexible work environment.

Individuals hired would be responsible for representing the Commission in a variety of matters, primarily in the federal appellate courts but also, on occasion, in the federal trial courts and other tribunals. Among other things, the individuals hired will have primary responsibility for merits briefing in appellate matters and regular opportunities to present oral argument. There will also be opportunities to work in cooperation with the Office of the Solicitor General on matters before the U.S. Supreme Court that implicate the FCC's interests, and with the Department of Justice on various trial-level matters. This position is at the GS-15 level.
